Soviet Union Policy Chief Puzzles U. S.

Intelligence Tries To Find Out Who Is Masterminding Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top American officials are deeply puzzled about who is masterminding Soviet foreign policy now, and U.S. intelligence experts are trying to solve the mystery.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, whose brother Allen is head of the Central Intelligence Agency, requested the study. But what Moscow personality it may center upon as the brain behind such things as Russia's maneuvers in the current disarmament talks is at present unknown to high officials here.

The search is a matter of more than personal curiosity. The personality, prejudices, preferences and past record of a top foreign affairs official provides clues to his future actions.

"K" Most Obvious

The most obvious candidate for the position of mastermind is Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev. But some, at least, of the best informed officials here rule him out for much of the time because he is either traveling, receiving foreign Communist leaders or occupied with urgent domestic problems. The same goes for Premier Nikolai Bulganin, whose influence in Soviet policy making is considered to be limited anyway.

The foreign minister is Andrei Gromyko, onetime ambassador in Washington. But authorities here do not credit him with the high degree of skill or the Kremlin prestige necessary to be the mastermind.

Zhukov Has Influence

Marshal Georgi Zhukov, World War II hero and present defense minister, who appeared to gain greater power in the recent purge of former Foreign Minister Molotov and other Khrushchev enemies is credited here with having great influence in the ruling circle. But he is not regarded as a man likely to pay constant attention to foreign affairs since his background is all military and the Defense Ministry is a demanding job in itself.

Khrushchev Begins Tour Of Provinces

BERLIN (AP)—An effort to win friends and influence the people of Communist-run East Germany was taken into the provinces today by Nikita Khrushchev.

The Soviet Communist party boss began a tour of key East German cities with a stop at Leipzig. A torchlight parade greeted him there last night and a rally of 100,000 persons was organized for today.

The Russian leader headed south from Berlin a few hours after a blistering speech threatening the West with possible rocket attacks.

Khrushchev was accompanied by Walter Ulbricht, Stalinist chief of East Germany's Communist party. Western newsmen were not permitted to go along.

Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, members of the delegation that arrived Wednesday from Moscow, were off on another jaunt.

East German Premier Otto Grotewohl accompanied Mikoyan and Gromyko on visits to seaports on the Baltic Sea. Mass rallies were scheduled for them in Stralsund today and in Rostock tomorrow.

The Russian party toured East Berlin yesterday after Khrushchev assailed the West before the East German Parliament.

Nagasaki Holds Rite To Observe Atom Bomb Drop

NAGASAKI, Japan (AP)—Three hundred thousand residents of Nagasaki today observed the 12th anniversary of the atomic bomb attack on this city in western Japan.

A minute of silent prayer at 11:01 a. m. marked the exact time a lone B29 dropped the second atomic bomb in World War II. Then ships in the port blew their whistles, sirens sounded and churches and temples tolled their bells. Later, a public memorial service was held at Peace Park.

The atomic bomb attack, following another at Hiroshima three days earlier, killed an estimated 74,000 persons in Nagasaki.

ACCUSED SPY ARRAIGNED—Rudolph Ivanovich Abel, above, accused Russian master spy, is shown as he arrived at Brooklyn's federal courthouse today where he was arraigned. Plea Of Innocent Entered By Court For Accused Spy

NEW YORK (AP)—With all the calmness of a man resigned to fate, accused master Russian spy Rudolph Ivanovich Abel was arraigned today on charges which could bring his execution. A plea of innocent was entered for him by the court.

Abel, looking somewhat haggard and disheveled, was held without bail when arraigned before Federal Judge Matthew T. Abruzzo.

The judge inquired whether Abel had obtained a lawyer and Abel said he had not. Asked how long it would take him to get one, Abel replied:

Hearing Set August 13

"I really don't know." Abel said he would like to be given time to secure an attorney before further proceedings and the judge complied. The judge then set a hearing for Aug. 13.

Spies Sentenced

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacob Albam, 64, a former Brooklyn tea and spice dealer, and Mrs. Myra Sobie, 52, were sentenced to 5½ years in prison each today for spying for the Soviet Union. Her husband, Jack, 54, a third member of the espionage ring, was to be sentenced later.

Abel, 55, haggard and grimly uncommunicative, spent last night in Manhattan's federal house of detention after being flown from Houston, Tex. He had been awaiting deportation as an illegal alien in a detention camp at McAllen, Tex., when indicted by a Brooklyn grand jury as a key Soviet agent.

Since Abel's arrest there has been no move by the Soviet government in the case. The grand jury indictment on Wednesday charges Abel headed a spy ring that transmitted military and atomic secrets to Moscow—with the help of U.S. servicemen if possible.

Navy To Have No Battleships In Operation By End Of Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in its modern history, the U.S. Navy will have no battleships operating at the end of this year.

The Navy announced today that the battleship Wisconsin and 18 other vessels will be placed in mothballs by Oct. 28. This is in addition to 60 others, including the battleship Iowa, which it said Monday will be retired by the end of the year.

The Iowa and the Wisconsin are now the only active battlewagons surviving the trend toward aircraft carriers and other more modern ship types.

Queen, Philip To See Terps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip will take in an American football game on their visit to the United States Oct. 16-21. They will see the Maryland-North Carolina game at College Park, Md., Oct. 19.

Otherwise the schedule includes the usual state events and previously announced visits to Williamsburg and Jamestown, Va.

Maryland Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin will be host to the royal couple at the football game.

British Slap Yemen Arms Aid By Reds

LONDON (AP)—Britain charged today that Russia and Czechoslovakia have made substantial deliveries of arms, including tanks and airplanes, to the Arab kingdom of Yemen.

A Foreign Office spokesman told reporters that six or seven shiploads of arms have arrived in the Arab country bordering the British-ruled Aden protectorate.

The Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today a Soviet arms shipment purchased by Yemen had arrived.

Quoting reliable sources, the paper said Yemenite Crown Prince Seif el Islam Badr supervised unloading operations at the Red Sea port of Salaf, 40 miles northwest of Hodeida.

Earlier, the London Times reported six shiploads of Soviet arms had reached Yemen.

Yemen is across from the Sultanate of Muscat and Oman where British troops and warplanes are helping put down a rebellion against their friend, Sultan Said bin Taimur. The British have voiced the suspicion that the rebel leader, Iman Ghaleb bin Ali, is receiving modern arms from Saudi Arabia.

Storm Threat To Louisiana Coast Grows

Hurricane 'Bertha' May Hit Still-Groggy Lake Charles Section

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Tropical storm Bertha moved closer to land early today with squalls and winds buffeting the Louisiana coast now braced for the onslaught of the season's second hurricane.

The Weather Bureau's bulletin at 7 a. m. placed the storm 160 miles southeast of Lake Charles, La., raked by Hurricane Audrey six weeks ago in a storm that claimed more than 500 lives.

The bulletin said the storm probably would reach hurricane force today. Winds accompanying the storm now are estimated at 65 m.p.h. in squalls extending out 100 miles from the center.

10-12 Miles Per Hour

The storm was expected to continue moving between west and northwest 10 to 12 m.p.h., aimed in the general direction of the Louisiana-Texas border. The bulletin said tides were rising along the east and central Louisiana coasts.

Residents of the Cameron Parish area, which took the full force of Hurricane Audrey, evacuated last night and residents of other low coastal areas joined in the flight for higher and safer ground. Off-shore drilling crews began returning to the mainland at the first storm warnings yesterday.

CD Units Alerted

Civil defense units were alerted from New Orleans westward and headquarters here was on an around-the-clock watch on Bertha's movements.

G. L. Allen, a forecaster at the New Orleans Weather Bureau, said Bertha's present movement would take it inland somewhere between the Louisiana-Texas border and a point south of Houston, Tex.

AFL-CIO Drops Convention Plans

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO convention, expected to draw 3,000 delegates Dec. 4-10, was called off yesterday.

Thomas Smith, head of the Convention Bureau, said union officials gave no explanation for the cancellation.

Last month, the 10,000-delegate ELKS convention dropped a

Ex-Official Of Old AFL Unit Heard

Weintraub Testifies He Felt Price Worth It To Be Rid Of Him

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former official of the old United Auto Workers Union-AFL testified today racketeer Johnny (Dio) Dioguardia demanded $10,000 as his price for quitting the union, but actually secretly received $16,000.

Morris Weintraub, now a South Newport, Ky., lawyer, said he had been leading a fight to fire Dio from the UAW, and felt at the time it was worth $10,000 "if we could get rid of him lock, stock and barrel"—and if, as Dio contended, the racketeer actually had spent that much out of his own pocket for union organizational efforts.

Weintraub told the Senate Rackets Committee he didn't know, until he heard it recently from committee investigators, that the amount paid was $16,000, not the $10,000 he and others understood was being paid.

Invokes 'Fifth'

Dio had invoked the Fifth Amendment, pleading an answer might incriminate him, when asked yesterday to tell the committee why he received the $16,000.

Dio also invoked the Fifth Amendment on 139 other questions including whether he had any ties with James R. Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union. The committee contends Dio and Hoffa worked hand in glove in deals that enhanced Hoffa's union power and enriched Dio.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said another witness who would be questioned about the matter is Earl Heaton, retiring president of the Allied Industrial Workers. This is a new name that was taken by the old AFL-UAW.

Used 140 Times

Dio invoked the Fifth Amendment 140 times as a witness yesterday. He refused to answer questions about his labor union connections and alleged "close friendship" with Midwest Teamster boss James R. Hoffa, the man expected to succeed Dave Beck as Teamsters president.

Among matters that Dio refused to talk about was a $16,000 check given him by the UAW-AFL in September 1954 and signed by Anthony Doria, then the UAW-AFL's secretary-treasurer.

Doria, who was involved in a Senate investigation of labor union welfare fund scandals a few years ago, recently quit as the AIW's secretary-treasurer. Kennedy said Doria was paid some $80,000 for stepping out.

When Dio refused to acknowledge his signature on the $16,000 check, Kennedy said Doria had explained it as repayment of money Dio had "invested" in UAW-AFL Local 102.

That is the local, Kennedy said, in which Dio collected hoodlums and later switched them into a batch of specially created Teamsters Union locals to rig the election of a Hoffa-picked man to the top Teamsters spot in the key New York area.

Graham's Aides Plan Huge Rally In Times Square

NEW YORK (INS)—Billy Graham's aides worked today on plans for a Times Square rally on Sunday, Sept. 1, to close the longest crusade of the evangelist's career.

Under present schedules, the last of the Madison Square Garden meetings will be held the night of Aug. 31, by which time it was expected total attendance would be near the two million mark for the 15½ weeks drive.

Graham last night urged 17,200 persons at the Garden to "turn to the Bible for leadership."

Girard Under 'Surveillance' After AWOL

GI Accused In Japan Woman's Death Went To Tavern For Beer

TOKYO (INS)—Army specialist William S. Girard, who soon must face trial in a Japanese court for the death of a civilian woman, was placed under "24-hour surveillance" today after going AWOL for three hours Monday night.

The Army disclosed that Girard, who was under restriction awaiting his manslaughter trial August 26, walked away from Camp Whittington, north of Tokyo and went to a little Japanese bar to drink beer with two buddies.

An Army spokesman said Girard, 21, whose home is Streator, Ill., was spotted in the tavern by military police but was not arrested. Instead, the soldier was told to return to the base, which he did.

The spokesman said Girard was away from the base from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m., and left with "a couple of other soldiers" apparently for "a couple of quick beers."

The Army announcement of the incident said Girard, who is charged with fatally shooting Mrs. Naka Sakai January 30 on an American firing range, now is being "continued in restriction, which has been increased to include 24-hour surveillance."

Observers said it was likely that the prosecution at the manslaughter trial will cite the incident as evidence of "irresponsibility" in Girard's character.

Power Fight Near Climax

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public power versus private power fight neared a showdown in the House today over a $389,145,000 Atomic Energy Commission construction bill.

The controversy centers around a provision authorizing the commission to spend $8 million dollars to build three atomic reactors at AEC installations in Idaho and Washington state, and to proceed with construction of atomic power plants for cooperative or public power groups.

40 Americans Will Visit Chinese Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—About 40 American delegates to the Communist-sponsored World Youth Festival today accepted an invitation to visit Red China despite a U.S. State Department ban on travel there, a delegation spokesman said.

Fifteen Americans, including eight members of the group's administrative committee, will make the three-week trip on non-paying guests of the Peiping government.

The others will be asked to pay a token $100 each for transportation to and from China and for all expenses of their tour.

Pope Unlikely To Heed Plea In Race Test

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII is "most unlikely" to heed a plea by a group of New Orleans Roman Catholic laymen that their church halt racial integration. Vatican sources said today.

These sources pointed out that the 81-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church has frequently referred to the equality of men, regardless of color. However, there was no information that he had ever spoken directly upon the subject of segregation.

The sharpest criticism ever expressed here against segregation was that of L'Osservatore Romano on Oct. 17, 1955, when it declared that racial exclusion is a sin against the nature of Catholicism.

Vatican sources said that the Vatican newspaper's words doubtless reflected, in general, the attitude of the Pope. L'Osservatore, at the time, was commenting upon the impending of a Negro priest from celebrating Mass in a mission near New Orleans.

L'Osservatore described the action by the Catholics as a sacrilege and praised the intervention of Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel of New Orleans in the Negro priest's behalf as being "prompt and admirable." Archbishop Rummel suspended Masses at the mission.

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel recognized the right of a group of Catholic laymen to appeal to Pope Pius XII to stop racial integration in the church.

Largest Balloon Ever Sent Aloft Helps Research

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—A balloon, described as the largest ever released in the United States, was launched at Grenier Air Force Base today.

The balloon was the third in a series being released here to gather research data about balloons themselves and also to obtain information useful to meteorologists.

Dr. Alvin H. Howell, directing the balloon program for the Air Force Research Center at Bedford, Mass., said the pear-shaped balloon will reach a measurement of about 200 feet in diameter when it soars to its ceiling of 90,000 feet. The balloon rose rapidly and disappeared above the clouds in 30 minutes. Dr. Howell said the mechanism is "set for five days." By then, he said, the balloon may reach the West Coast, or at least the Rocky Mountains.

Says House Should Pass Senate's Act

Speaker Would Be Willing To Modify Jury Trial Provision

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Rayburn said today he favors House approval of the Senate-passed civil rights bill, including the jury trial provision.

If necessary, Rayburn said at his morning news conference, he would be willing to modify the jury trial provision to limit it to voting cases only.

The fate of the bill in the House rests largely with the Republicans, he added.

Rules Group Must Ok

In order for the House to consider the bill, Rayburn pointed out, the Rules Committee must give its approval and Republicans "will have to get a rule to take up the bill and concur in the Senate amendments."

There are eight Democrats and four Republicans on the Rules Committee and four of the Democrats are opposed to the bill. That means that at least three of the four Republicans would have to favor the measure to provide a majority for clearance of the bill.

Rayburn said "the people downtown"—referring to Eisenhower administration officials—"put a lot of other things" in the bill besides voting rights.

Have Opportunity Now

"If these people are for a right-to-vote bill," he added, "they have an opportunity to get it now."

Rayburn's willingness to restrict the jury trial provision to voting rights cases strengthened indications, already apparent, that a compromise might be upcoming.

Normal procedure would be to seek a House-Senate compromise of differences, but some Democrats have been talking of trying to push through the Senate measure, thus forcing President Eisenhower to sign or veto the bill.

Action Seen Next Week

No House action was in prospect before next week.

Part of the Democratic strategy appeared to be to catch House Republicans in an embarrassing political squeeze, with a choice of accepting the best bill they can or holding out for President Eisenhower's program.

A top House leader said the fate of any civil rights legislation now rests with the Republicans.

Must Meet Ike Idea

House GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts said he would recommend a veto of any bill that fails to meet Eisenhower's idea of a bill he could sign. Eisenhower has criticized some of the provisions the Senate wrote into the bill.

"We want it to go to conference. We want to get a workable bill," Martin said.

Kefauver Hits Steel Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—Challenging the view of a top steel industry executive, Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) contended today the effect of the recent steel price increase is "substantially inflationary."

Kefauver said the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, which he heads, will seek to develop evidence of this in questioning Roger M. Blough, board chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp. U.S. Steel is the nation's biggest steel producer.

Blough, testifying yesterday at the start of the subcommittee's inquiry into the $6-a-ton price boost that went into effect July 1, pictured the steel industry as a victim, rather than a generator, of inflation.

Foreign Aid Program Set At 3.3 Billion

Conferees Divide Difference Between Senate, House Total

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was presented today with a $3,366,000,000 foreign aid program embodying a first step toward a long-range program of economic help abroad.

President Eisenhower has urged such a program.

Slashed 498 Million

Senate and House conferees agreed last night on a compromise foreign aid bill, slashed $498,410,000 below the $3,864,410,000 Eisenhower asked for military, economic and technical assistance abroad. In doing so, the conferees just about split the 500½ million difference between Senate and House totals.

The totals may be cut even deeper in a later appropriations bill to finance the spending for which the foreign aid bill sets ceilings. But the compromise measure represents a partial congressional acceptance of the long-range concept.

Two-Year Authority

House conferees agreed to two-year authority for Eisenhower's proposed fund for making loans to underdeveloped countries for long-range economic development. The original House bill had limited the proposed fund to one year.

Senate conferees, in turn, agreed to drop their insistence on a three-year fund, and to accept the House version on how the fund should be operated.

'Water' Pipe Reveals Still

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A policeman, after searching unsuccessfully for illegal whisky in a home, worked up a thirst.

Patrolman Charles Stitt headed for the cold water tap of a laundry tub, poured himself a glassful, raised it to his lips—and the search came to an end.

Stitt and other officers traced the "water" pipe to a buried 25-gallon drum in the back yard. The drum, they said, was about two thirds full of "white whiskey."

Willie Cumbo, 33, and his wife Dolores, 28, who live in the house, were arrested on charges of possessing untaxed liquor. They said they didn't know anything about the whisky tap.

British Push Rebels Back

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — A British spokesman said a Trucial Oman scout was killed today in fighting for the village of Firq in the rebellious Sultanate of Muscat and Oman. Firq is about five miles from the rebel stronghold of Nizwa.

The only other casualties reported were five British troops who were evacuated by air to Bahrain suffering from heat exhaustion.

The spokesman said opposition is being encountered at Firq, but strong British-led fighting patrols are pushing forward to determine the enemy's strength and location.

Ascension Island was named for its discovery by the Portuguese on Ascension Day, 1501.

House Demos Map Plan For Tax Cut Next Year

WASHINGTON (INS) — House Democratic leaders map plans today for a general tax cut next year.

Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee scheduled a closed-door huddle with speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas and majority leader John McCormack of Massachusetts to decide how to proceed.

Rep. Hale Boggs (D-La.) said the leaders probably would announce when public hearings will begin on various general reduction proposals.

Debate When To Start

A behind-the-scenes tug of war has been going on for several weeks among the Democratic committee members over when to hold the hearings. The issue was expected to be decided today.

One group, including most of the junior members of the committee, want to begin hearings early this fall. They believe this is necessary to get the jump on any administration move to cut taxes.

The other group, which includes chairman Jere Cooper (D-Tenn.) and income tax subcommittee chairman Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) want to wait until January when the government's income and outgo picture is more in focus.

Like To See Rosier Glow

Despite recent anti-tax cut statements by every administration fiscal official, Democratic leaders believe the President will be able to see a rosier glow to government finances in January and will ask Congress to approve a modest tax reduction.

Those Democrats urging action before January fear the President may even announce his intentions of seeking a tax cut when he meets with GOP legislative leaders in December.

The race is to see which party is to get the credit with the tax-paying voters for a rate reduction in an election year.

Federal Reserve Act:

Discount Rate Increase Set Half Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board, moving to restrain credit expansion and thus curb inflation, has ordered another one-half per cent increase in the discount rate at four district banks.

The increase to 3½ per cent is effective today in Chicago, Kansas City, Philadelphia and Minneapolis. It brings the discount rate to the highest level in 23 years. The last previous boost came nearly a year ago.

The increase is expected to be extended to eight remaining reserve banks, but there may be some time lag before this happens. These banks are in New York, Boston, San Francisco, Cleveland, Richmond, Atlanta, St. Louis and Dallas.

Announcing the action, the reserve board said yesterday it followed recommendations of directors of the banks in the four affected reserve districts.

The discount rate is the charge levied by the Federal Reserve when member banks borrow from it. The higher rate is intended to discourage such borrowing. This in turn tends to limit the funds available for commercial lending.

A spokesman for the Federal Reserve Board said prices have been on the upgrade for 10 straight months. He noted the approach of a period of seasonal increases in credit expansion with the opening of schools and the Christmas buying time.

"The obvious thing," he said, "is to move the rates into line with the general market."

The last time there was an increase in the discount rate was on Aug. 23 a year ago. At that time, the rate rose from 2½ per cent to 3 per cent in 10 of the 12 reserve districts. The 3 per cent rate had been in effect in two districts since the preceding April. Meanwhile, the Treasury announced it will issue 1½ billion dollars in 237-day bills to raise cash for current requirements.

Crippled Airliner's Pilot Says God 'Called Shots'

HONOLULU (AP) — "I wasn't calling the shots — the good Lord was."

That's Maj. Samuel Tyson's explanation of how he kept his huge C-97 military air transport aloft 6½ hours on two engines yesterday for 1,000 miles over the Pacific with 67 people aboard.

Tyson, a 37-year-old veteran of World War II, the Korean War and the Berlin airlift who comes from Council Bluffs, Iowa, piloted the plane into Hilo, Hawaii, at 11:25 a.m. yesterday. Two of its engines had quit just beyond the point of no return from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., to Hickam AFB, Oahu.

"It never occurred to me that we would ditch," said Tyson.

"I'm a coward. I can't swim very far. The water's cold."

More seriously he said, "I'd determined to take things as they came. After the first shock of realizing we were in danger, and after the adrenalin shot into me, I thought clearer and acted better. I had confidence in myself."

"After all, I wasn't calling the shots — the good Lord was."

"Did you know you have been recommended for the Distinguished Flying Cross?" asked a newsmen.

"Nope," said Tyson.

"He's already got two of them," said a crewman.

Poison Ivy Proves Clue

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detective Edward Pushkarwicz told a Magistrate's Court yesterday how an itch led to an arrest.

Pushkarwicz caught poison ivy from vines around a suburban post office as he was investigating the theft of a pistol and $1,338 in cash and stamps.

Scratching for a solution, the detective reasoned the thief might be similarly blistered and uncomfortable. He went to the home of a suspect, and sure enough, there was a bottle of poison ivy lotion in the bedroom. Pushkarwicz arrested 23-year-old Robert A. Lightkeper.

Lightkeper told the court he'd caught the itch three weeks before the burglary. He was held without bail.

Coal Production Reported Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Coal Assn. today estimated bituminous production for the week ended Aug. 3 as about 9,695,000 tons, a drop from the 10,120,000 tons dug in the week ended July 27.

Output for the corresponding period in 1956 was 9,205,000 tons.

Production for the Jan. 1-Aug. 3 period was estimated at 289,466,000 tons compared with 289,864,000 tons, a year ago.

Son, 22 Months, Plunges Knife Into Father's Chest

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A young father is in critical condition today from a wound police say was given him by a steak knife in the hands of his 22-month-old son.

State Police Cpl. Jonah Reese said the father, Thomas Norris, 20, New Philadelphia, told him he was playing on the living room sofa with his boy when Thomas Jr. plunged the six-inch steak knife three inches into his chest near the heart.

Nazi Doctor Dies

KIEL, Germany (AP) — Dr. Carl Claiberg, 59, onetime doctor at the Nazi's Auschwitz concentration camp, died in prison today. He was awaiting trial on charges of making sterilization experiments on Jewish women.

Norris told Reese he had left the knife under the sofa after using it to fix the television set. He said he had no idea the child had found the knife until the youngster stabbed him.

Pastor Says Man Must Be Merciful Neighbor

OCEAN CITY, Md. (P)—Pastor Martin Niemöller said last night man must face the problems of world revolution as "a merciful neighbor."

An overflow crowd of about 500 turned out to hear the 65-year-old Lutheran leader deliver the last in a series of summer sermons at Atlantic Methodist Church in this ocean side resort.

Pastor Niemöller, imprisoned by Hitler during World War II for speaking out against Fascism from his pulpit in Westphalia, Germany, discussed the role of the church in a rapidly changing world.

"It is not evolution we are facing today," he said. "It is revolution because the world is shrinking and every shock produces world-wide repercussions."

Describing colonialism, racial discrimination and caste as "outmoded," he said conservatism "has sustained them under an accumulated pressure, but now the dam is about to give way and revolution will be the result."

"We cannot escape our responsibility and charge the results either to communism or to fate," he added.

He said the church must promote the gospel of "a Merciful God and a merciful neighbor" and its supporters must give service "outside our own community" to distressed peoples throughout the world.

"The prophetic voice of the church must be raised toward statesmen and nations that they may see," he said.

Psychiatric Institute Escapee Gives Self Up

BALTIMORE (P)—David N. Mouquin, 16-year-old Bethesda inmate who escaped from the psychiatric institute at University Hospital last Monday, surrendered last night.

A hospital spokesman said Mouquin returned about 9:30 p.m. He was committed to the hospital for examination June 6 by Montgomery County Juvenile Court after being convicted of arson in connection with a dozen fires in the Bethesda area.

He also had been charged with stabbing a schoolmate but was not convicted.

Mouquin escaped from the hospital last Monday by scaling an eight-foot wall enclosing a play area. Three attendants gave chase but he outraced them and disappeared from their sight about six

No Widespread Flu Vaccination Seen

BALTIMORE (P)—Maryland health authorities are ordering no widespread vaccination of the general population against Asiatic influenza—pending developments.

A joint announcement from the Maryland State Health Department, Baltimore City Health Department and a special Advisory Committee on Influenza said: "A vaccine against Asian influenza is being produced in quantity but as yet only limited tests have been made with respect to its effectiveness and frequency of reactions."

"In view of the foregoing situation, the committee is reluctant at this time to recommend widespread vaccination of the general population."

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever—Morris.

Farewell Tour?

EVIDENCE is mounting that the celebrated trouping team of Bulgianin and Khrushchev may have made its last tour. Rumors have been circulating for some time that Premier Bulgianin of the Soviet Union, always something of a figurehead in the Russian Communist hierarchy of the moment, has fallen into disfavor. Recent events tend to confirm. He didn't attend the important Soviet meeting with Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito in Romania. On the well publicized B. and K. trip to Czechoslovakia, Bulgianin was a weak second fiddle. And now he's been scratched from the travel roster for the Khrushchev visit to Communist East Germany.

NOT A FIGHTING man, but a political military officer, Bulgianin could never function as a true representative of the Red army in the Soviet government. But his presence at the top was a reminder of the army's power. In some quarters there has been a feeling all along that eventually he would be brushed aside and that, one way or another, the military would make its political strength directly felt in the highest reaches of the Kremlin. It could be that that time is approaching. Since Bulgianin has seemed a rather ineffectual fellow at best, no great difficulty could be encountered in sidelining him. Whether or not he has annoyed Khrushchev and other hard-driving Russian leaders, his indifferent performance makes him quite vulnerable.

SHOULD BULGANIN truly be marked for the discard, or for elevation to some meaningless administrative post, then the most notable representative of the Red army in the ruling circle would be Marshal Zhukov, Zhukov is, of course, a true fighting marshal and a real representative of army power. By Kremlin testimony, his weight helped mightily in foiling the recent power plot of Messrs. Molotov, Malenkov, Kaganovich and Shepilov. Whether Zhukov is in fact the key force in the army's political setup or whether it is Marshal Konev, standing behind him, is not wholly plain. But it is clear that any Kremlin maneuver which brings naked army strength closer to a central position in the ruling group hastens the day when the final struggle between the army leaders and the political forces of Khrushchev, Mikoyan and others will be fought to a showdown.

THE IDEA of the U. S. government sending toothbrushes and toothpaste to Morocco for use by 12,000 Arab highway workers is championed as a contribution to international friendship. But what if they don't like the taste of the toothpaste?

Paper And Air

PRESIDENT Eisenhower's program for greater air traffic safety, a comprehensive plan of necessity requiring gradual steps, is still a paper project in a nation whose airlines are saturated. Meantime, the airlines and their pilots in cooperation have quietly begun to operate a new safety system in the crowded triangle of air routes from Washington to New York to Chicago and thence to Washington. Above the level of 9,500 feet—a zone occupied by virtually all four-engined planes of the more modern types—the pilots hereafter will fly at all times by instrument flight rules. This means they will be under the constant guidance of government air traffic control centers. The object, of course, is to minimize the prospect of mid-air collisions on the pattern of last year's disastrous Grand Canyon mishap. At that time, one plane was following instrument rules but the other was using so-called visual flight rules, an alternative considerably handicapped by the poor vision afforded in most of today's pilot cabins. This voluntary move toward air safety is a signal evidence of responsibility on the part of the airlines and their pilots. Not only should it promote safer travel now, but it should encourage all advocates of the President's broad, long-range plan to press for its swift adoption.

THE International Geophysical Year is indeed a complicated subject, but the woman heard inquiring whether it adds to her age can be assured that to the contrary its discoveries may help her feel younger and live longer.

Kennedy Seen As Interesting Case Study

WASHINGTON — The constant dilemma faced by any Senator who yearns to be President—a dilemma caused by the necessity of voting day after day on controversial issues — is plainly exemplified in young Senator John Kennedy.

He offers perhaps the best available case study just now among several you might pick out in the Senate. For one thing, he is ranked at the top or thereabouts in various polls. For another, he is so obviously a candidate for the 1960 Democratic nomination, and he is working at it and so, presumably, has that aspiration in mind in making his decisions about his votes in the Senate.

In 1956, at the Democratic convention, he got that first taste of the power and glory which, once enjoyed, no man ever loses. For two exciting ballots for the Vice Presidential candidate, his name was all over the nation.

He lost out to Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee by a hair. Only rarely has fame exploded about anybody so quickly and spectacularly. You can recall that episode. He is not likely ever to forget it.

ABOVE ALL, he still remembers one aspect of that exhilarating experience—the contributions of votes by delegations from the South.

That bridged the gap that had existed between Massachusetts and the South ever since the pre-Civil War days symbolized in Senator Charles Sumner, the abolitionist who fought the South so bitterly before and after the Civil War.

The estrangement was fed when, in the 1890's, the South began to steal away Massachusetts' cotton mills—a process still going on.

For that and other reasons, this is a strange political love affair between John Kennedy and the South.

It is dramatized in the exchange of compliments between him and a current Southern Senator, John McClellan of Arkansas, now conducting the labor rackets investigation in which both John Kennedy, as Senator, and his brother Bob, as Chief Counsel, are participating. A handsome pair of profiles the Kennedy brothers provide when they flash across your television screen.

NOT LONG ago, while in Arkansas on a visit, Senator John Kennedy allowed as how Senator McClellan would make a fine Democratic candidate for President, and here only the other day Senator John McClellan reciprocated by allowing as how John Kennedy would make a fine Democratic candidate for President. You never heard such honey-chile and magnolia talk, sirs.

From time to time, Senator Kennedy casts a noseyog toward the South. This has been happening in the fight over civil rights legislation in which the South is so deeply involved.

The young Massachusetts Senator pleased the South at the outset, when he voted with Southern Senators—and on the losing side—for the motion by Senator Wayne Morse to send the civil rights bill to the Judiciary Committee when it came over from the House, instead of putting it on the Senate calendar.

Then he switched over and voted with the Yankees to take it from the calendar and make it the business of the Senate.

McElroy Seems Ideal To Fill Wilson's Shoes

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Neil McElroy, the 52-year-old president of the Procter & Gamble soap company, looks like an ideal man to fill the shoes of Charley Wilson, outgoing secretary of defense.

McElroy is full of energy and an industrialist of proven ability. He set up the various soap divisions of P&G so that they would be in direct, heated competition with one another. The result: the corporation's business zoomed.

As chairman of the White House Conference on Education he demonstrated that he had that special personality touch and sixth sense for sniffing out political booby-traps. These are essential attributes for a successful top Washington official. This education conference had dangerous, explosive and personal possibilities for McElroy.

At least half the delegates to the meeting came armed with some kind of harpoon to hurl at him or the President. But by being honest, direct and business-like he ended up with a pat on the back from everyone there, and with some work accomplished. The latter is rare and not really expected from education conferences.

IT'S GOOD that McElroy has this nice collection of talents because there is no such thing as a boss of the Pentagon having too many talents. In fact, before Charley Wilson came along it was believed by many serious students of government that this defense post was too big for one man.

Charley proved that one man could run the three services and survive reasonably well. But it was frequently a harrowing experience.

History From The Times Files

TEN YEARS AGO
August 9, 1947

Body of Miss Rose Mary Mathias, 23, member of Beall High School faculty at Frostburg, who drowned as result of flash flood near Gatlinburg, Tenn., returned home for burial.

Charles J. Bruce, 63, RD 3, Lake Gordon, superintendent of Evitts Creek Water Company, died.

Ira N. Shaffer, 67, Rowlesburg area, fatally injured when pulled beneath mowing machine.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
August 9, 1937

Clarence B. Sell, 42, former resident, killed in truck collision at Narbeth, Pa.

Miss Catherine Lippold named advisor to leaders of local Girl Scout organization.

Miss Eileen Carey, Race Street, awarded top prize in nationwide hairdressing contest.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
August 9, 1927

County road directors sought rights-of-way on Midland-Lonacoring, or "legislative" road to eliminate curves and grades.

Over 1,000 dog licenses sold at Court House.

L. M. Bishop, Keyser B&O trainman, killed on Western Maryland Railway at Williamsport.

Rev. H. L. Logsdon assumed pastorate of Zion Reformed Church.

FORTY YEARS AGO
August 9, 1917

Wade L. Smith, 10, city, injured when squeezed against by lumber truck.

Norman H. Hess, former resident killed in Pittsburgh steel mill.

LaVale Milling Company, which built a water mill on Braddock Run, planned to operate electric power for homes in that area.

BUT BACK across the Mason and Dixon Line he hopped nimbly, to join the Confederates by giving the Southern leadership his vote on the compromise "jury trial" amendment which ardent champions of effective protection of the right of Negroes to vote had fought so vigorously. Here he had the company of several Northern and Western Democrats; a dozen in fact.

The course of expediency followed by the author of the best-selling "Profiles in Courage" is not unusual in politics, and in particular among politicians who aspire to ascend higher than the Senate. In fact, it is quite typical. It requires incessant caution to zig at the right moment and zag at the right moment.

In keeping himself in the good graces of the Southern leaders in the Senate, who are so powerful there, Senator Kennedy helps himself and his career. But he must be careful not to antagonize leaders and rank and file in the larger section of his party, which is outside of the South. The delegates representing that larger section of the country are most numerous in conventions.

THERE ARE certain dangers in tying up too closely with the Southern wing of the party, so far as the national convention is concerned. No longer does the South enjoy the influence in conventions that it did when it had a veto over candidates, before the two-thirds nominating rule was repealed in 1936.

In short, John Kennedy can still sit pretty with Southern leaders in Congress, and with the South—and yet miss the prize.

Glancing Sideways

TOLUCA, Mex. — About all anyone can say about walking around in a city that is 9,000 feet above sea level is that it is hard to breathe. That is the first thing. It is difficult, but not painful. One feels an odd faintness at moments, but in six hours it passes and there no longer is any problem.

But a rewrite could be done on the famed warning that is found in every New York theatre program: "In case of fire, walk, do not run, to the nearest exit." Here it should read: "In case of Toluca, walk, do not run, to where you are going."

TOLUCA has one day a week in which it transforms itself from a sedate, charming, high altitude city into a screaming madhouse. That is Friday, market day. The Tolucaans are not the transformers, nor are the Indians in from the hills. American tourists are the magicians who change a city of loveliness into bedlam.

It is only 35 miles from Mexico City, an easy drive, and the market offers a thousand fascinating things. Work in gold and silver, marvelous and colorful baskets, maguel fibre table mats, exotic cheeses and fruits, gigantic woven straw mats, hats with miniature villages tacked on them, complete with tiny huts and scampering goats.

Also, seven blocks of Indians selling their hand-made goods and not one of them knows the word "no" in English, Spanish or their own tongue. It does not exist for them.

THEY SIMPLY walk along beside you thrusting oddments and fascinations at you until you weary of saying "no." You stop in self-defense and you are "clustered." There must be such a word as "clustered." In any case, this is what they do to you — and shamelessly and openly they deride each other's goods, but always without resulting violence between them.

A dozen surround you in a cluster and if one says an object is ten pesos and of the finest quality nine others will yell that you can have theirs for eight pesos and look how much better theirs is compared to that sleazy fake that crazy, greedy outlaw has just had the colossal nerve to ask ten for!

Only look! By that time a little fellow on the edge of the crowd has climbed up on a wooden box and he shrills that for six pesos you can have an object which reduces all the others to trash. Only feel!

If you think it is easy to avoid these clusters, try it.

YOU ENTER a restaurant and it is a jungle of baskets, shawls, mats, hats and other objects purchased by the Americans who fill the place with a thunderous gabble telling each other how Uncle Bob in Chevy Chase will love this and Aunt Ruth in Mankato has been dying for just this kind of basket, and through it all the basic theme: "Wha'd'yuh pay, honey?"

No tourist, with an object, likes to feel that he paid a penny more for it than did his neighbor at the next table for exactly the same kind of object.

AMERICAN college kids throng the streets, the boys thrust into heavy, hand-carded wool, chain-knit sort of super-sweaters which are a specialty here and which give the most emaciated youth the burly look of a 200-pound varsity tackle. This sweater has an 1890 Yale-type collar and the wool is as thick as a box spring.

It is cold here even in August, the altitude combining with the snow-chilled winds of the soaring, mantled volcano at the edge of town. Such a sweater is useful and hardy here. I don't know what it will look or feel like in a New York street 30 days hence. The wearer probably would faint from heat.

But the bedlam and the comparing of notes and prices and the tales of bargaining prowess are fun to hear. It is fun to see our kind descend on a placid but commercial little city and rip it to smithereens in an avid, interested and fascinated quest for the best in native goods. It is a healthy pastime, a joyous one, and the Tolucaans welcome it.

Goodbye Dear Old Eagle

WASHINGTON — I'm about to sell my Aero Eagle, which is an automobile, and I almost feel astounded, like a faithless lover.

In the old days, when motor cars had stout hearts and endearing foibles, such a feeling wasn't unusual. Many a driver fell in love with his automobile and was saddened when finally he had to trade her in.

Now, with cars wearing tin pants and mostly looking alike, including fish tails, they haven't much personality and sentimental affairs between man and machine are rare.

So I'd like to tell you about my 1953 model Willys hard top convertible and if this piece sounds like a free advertisement, fair enough. You can't get a Willys sedan anymore. Mine is one of the last ever manufactured.

I GOT HER late in 1952, all green and white and jaunty, and for five years now she's been hauling me from Capitol to Pentagon to Interior Department. Not once has she refused to go.

One time last winter she did make some squeaking noises when I stepped on the clutch; the man said that was because she needed a new thrust bearing. The following day she stopped complaining of her own accord and I have the new bearing in the trunk, still uninstalled.

When her speedometer turned up 30,000 miles some time ago, I dropped her by the shop as a matter of course to have her brakes relined. The manager that evening reported he was amazed; he said he hardly could believe his own eyes, but the linings seemed good for another 20,000 miles.

ONCE WHEN I was heading in the direction of the White House, my Eagle almost did me dirt. She was in second gear at the time, going away from a stoplight, when the gear shift level broke off in my hand. There wasn't even a nubbin left.

I spent the rest of the day traveling in "second and being especially careful not to get in a place where I'd have to back up. That night I bought a new lever for $1.45 and that's the only part of my Eagle that has been replaced.

She's been a lively little ma-

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — A young fellow named Peter Palmer has a sure-fire recipe for losing weight—get a top part in a Broadway musical.

"I weighed 260 pounds as a college freshman," said Pete, who stands 6 feet 4 and plays the title role in "Li'l Abner."

"I weighed 245 pounds when I was studying music and playing tackle on the University of Illinois football team. But after playing 'Li'l Abner' some 350 times, I'm down to 215 pounds.

"My old coach, Ray Eliot, told me, 'Son, if I could have gotten you in this kind of shape, you'd have made the All-America.'"

THE QUICK RISE to fame of this big young singer, who is as likable in real life as the comic strip hero of Dogpatch he portrays, is one of those success sagas that make Broadway folk themselves believe Broadway has a heart.

After leaving the university — Pete played in the 1952 Rose Bowl contest, sang the "Star Spangled Banner" in football uniform before home games—he won a Chicago radio station's singing contest and went to California.

In 1954 he met Miss Jackie Gleason, secretary for actor Mark Stevens but no relation to the overweight comedian, and they were married. Then Uncle Sam gave him the nod.

It was while he was singing on Ed Sullivan's all GI show in June, 1956, that the producers of "Li'l Abner" spotted him. Three weeks later, parted from the Army, he went into rehearsal.

Pete, who is only 25, remains a bit dazed at the sudden spin of fortune's wheel.

"A year ago," he remarked, "I was a Pfc. making $200 a month. We had an old station wagon and $10 in the bank. We had one kid, and another on the way."

NOW PETE IS IN the $25,000 to $50,000 a year bracket. He has a used Cadillac and a $20,000 home in Closter, N. J., housing development. And he and Jackie have two kids—and another on the way.

"That'll be par for the course—three in three years," he said cheerfully. "That's what a dumb Protestant gets for marrying a smart Catholic. But that don't mean we'll be through with having kids. I like being a family man."

"My brother married a Catholic girl, too. They've had four children in five years."

"What does your brother do?"

"He's a guided missile engineer," said Pete.

Palmer buys government bonds every month and he's paying on annuities to send his kids to college.

"I want to be sure, even if I end up without a cent myself, that the kids get an education."

Pete, who doesn't smoke and drinks only an occasional beer, keeps in rigorous condition.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—The way I feel about it, enough is enough, and we ought to stop picking on Maxie the Gluck. He is going to be our Ambassador to Ceylon, whether he knows it is something besides a kind of tea or not, so we should let him up and sing him sad farewell with that lovely old Ceylon aloha: "So long, oolong, how long you gonna be gone?"

We have roasted Maxwell H. Gluck too much. We should not braise him further, even if the fellow who had a yen for Annie Laurie always sang: "Maxwell's braise are burnie."

There have been teapot tempests over whether Ambassador Gluck forfeited the right to go to Ceylon when he couldn't name the country's prime minister, or answer other questions about it. But I have just been handed a confidential memo which satisfies me that he is not a culprit but a victim.

This memo reveals that Gluck is a victim of the State Department's built-in policy of never letting its left mind know what its right mind is doing. And it's seldom in its right mind.

ONE OF MY AGENTS went to the Dulles domain to ask why the owner of 140 women's dress shops had not been briefed on Ceylon before he was thrown to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to be put to the question by some of the most fanatic anti-Administration inquisitors since the invention of the rack. My emissary promptly ran into an open switch which threw her off the track.

She was told by one State Department official, whom she described as having a rather honest face, that the Department always tried to brief ambassadorial nominees on the country to which they were to be assigned before Senate interrogators could get a whack at them.

In the case of Gluck, this official said, the Senators had simply beaten the Department to it. He added: "They just got hold of Gluck before he was briefed."

MY AGENT SAYS she doesn't know what made her do it, but she decided to double-check with the State Department's Ceylon expert—the man who is now belatedly tutoring Gluck for his new post. She almost popped her protocol because the expert told her a completely contradictory story.

He told her it was fixed State Department policy never to brief a potential Ambassador until he had been confirmed by the Senate.

I can understand the reason for a policy like that. Suppose a nominee was briefed that the name of the Prime Minister of Ceylon is Solomon West Ridgeway Dias Bandaranaike? If the Senate turned him down, he'd be wandering around loose with a dangerous piece of information.

Having had to contend with contradictions and confusions like that, it's a wonder Gluck came through as well as he did. I learn that Ceylon is a foreign nation, he will make an Ambassador Plenipotentiary, if not extraordinary.

I intend that a man of such accomplishment will do us proud in Ceylon. If the Prime Minister says to him: "What's my name?" he can counter with: "I don't know. But it's a quarter after five."

ABL Workers To Receive Hercules Safety Award

Each employee at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory will receive a safety award as a result of 519 days without a lost-time injury at the facility operated by the Hercules Powder Company for the Navy.

Benjamin R. Lewis, plant safety director, said the employees qualified for the director of operations award as of midnight Wednesday.

The next goal of the plant is the General Manager's Prize, awarded for 684 days of continuous work without injuries. This can be reached on January 19, 1958, according to Lewis.

Upon completion of 356 accident-free days the employees receive the Plant Manager's Prize in February.

Every plant of the Hercules Company has such a safety program in effect, and the awarding of prizes is determined by the number of man hours worked and the size of the plant.

A display has been set up at the main gate of ABL so the employees can select the prizes they want. Prizes increase in value as the employees work more hours without lost-time injuries.

After the top prize is achieved the employees can again be awarded the similar prize for an additional 165 days without lost-time injuries.

Lewis said the prizes now on display include a carpet sweeper, kitchen cutlery set, copper bottom skillet, charcoal grill, aluminum folding chair, 12 golf balls, fisherman's tackle box, barometer, lawn sprinkler, hedge and grass trimmer, electric knife sharpener, adjustable ironing table and a camera outfit.

Henry Cabot Lodge, United States Ambassador to the United Nations, was the first member to leave the United States Senate for military service since the Civil War.

Progress Cited On Repairs To City Reservoir

Water Department crews are making good progress on repairs to Ridgedale Reservoir, according to Water Commissioner William J. Edwards.

Crews from Lake Gordon, he said, had poured 12 of the 29 concrete slabs which needed replacement in the top course of the 7,000,000-gallon reservoir.

Reinforcing mesh and expansion joints have been set in place for the other panels, and all should be poured by the end of next week.

The same procedure will be followed on damaged slabs in the second course.

All of the joints between the slabs will be calked with a special mastic material.

Work is being done by a crew from the Lake Gordon filter plant under George M. Hitchcock, superintendent.

The Mayor and Council will open bids Monday on repairs to the Fort Hill Reservoir, Edwards noted.

Considerable leakage has been reported in both reservoirs between top courses of concrete which are subject to weathering.

Most of the land occupied by the 15 buildings, including the Associated Press Building, in New York's Rockefeller Plaza, are owned by Columbia University.

Texas Firm In Area For Gas Search

Geophysical Service, a Dallas, Texas, company, is carrying on seismograph operations on Negro Mountain in Garrett County to provide a client with information on the possibility of natural gas deposits in that area.

The Texas firm has been in the area since last December mapping sub-surface geology which may indicate where natural gas might be located.

Ernest Malovich is in charge of the operation which has its headquarters in Somerset, Pa. He observed that the point where his operation now is under way is on the same anticline as the Accident gas wells which have been productive for seven or eight years.

Most of the land where Malovich and his associates are active is owned by Snee and Eberly, the Uniontown, Pa., men who have been active in Garrett County and nearby Pennsylvania gas drilling operations.

Although Malovich would not divulge the name of his client, it was understood from another source that it was one of the subsidiaries of the Columbia Gas System of which the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company is one.

Geophysical Service seeks to find contrasts in rock layers which may indicate the position of natural gas. In the Gulf area soundings have been made to a depth of 40,000 feet but nothing like that in this locality.

Before the Geophysical Service begins its operations it obtains permission from the owners of the land being served. Such permission was granted several days ago by the State Department of Forests and Parks when the explorations carried the crew onto state forest land. Permission was obtained from District Forester William H. Johnson.

Flood Project Funds Approved

An appropriation of $2,000,000 for the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project was passed yesterday by the Senate.

The vote on the measure, which will provide funds to complete the project on schedule, was 85-1.

The bill will now go to a Senate-House conference committee.

There are no indications that a hitch could develop, as both the House and the Senate have gone down the line with the recommendations of the Corps of Engineers, which is building the system of levees and flood walls to protect the communities from floods in the Potomac River and Wills Creek.

The $2,000,000 is needed to finance work on the project for the year which began July 1, and will be applied toward four contracts which are under construction.

Another smaller appropriation will be needed next year to finance final work on the $18,000,000 project which is slated for completion in December 1958.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Wall Street Hears: If Commonwealth Edison gets its new electric rate increase it could add about 60 cents a share to net after taxes. Better than $5.20 a share income is estimated for Royal Dutch this year which would compare with $4.97 last year and $4.42 in 1955. ### Mary Haworth's Mail

EDITOR'S NOTE: Married to much younger man, wife begins to feel insecure.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am 40 and my husband is 25. We have been married two years, and my husband had courted me for three years previously, to overcome my objections to marrying him because of the difference in age. Without conceit I may say honestly that I look about 35 or less, both in face and figure. People I've known for years ask me how I stay looking so young, and that I can't answer, as I do nothing. I like the very little make-up, as my husband dislikes the "painted woman" look. My husband is a tall well-built fellow who looks at times like a freshly scrubbed school boy, and at other times like a man of 30 or more.

Refresher Lifesaving Course Set

Twenty persons have applied for a refresher course for swimming and life saving instructors which will be given next door by the Allegany County Chapter of Red Cross and the City Recreation Department. The refresher course will be taught by John Morris and Miss Martha Miller at Constitution Park Pool, Monday through Friday, from 9 a. m. to noon each day. Following the refresher, this class will then be enrolled in an instructors' course to be taught by Eugene Husik, Alexandria, Va.; Red Cross first aid and water safety representative for the area. This instructors' course will also be conducted at Constitution Park pool and will be held daily from 9 a. m. to noon from August 19 to 23, inclusive.

Husband Calls

Worry Foolish

He enjoys his home life and we go out very seldom, and he won't go anywhere that he can't take me. I have no doubt at all of his devotion to me now. But we are, and will be, a childless couple — due to results of an early illness of mine. Nor can we hope to adopt a child, because the age difference would be an obstacle, from the agency angle. Although children don't seem to keep marriages together nowadays, I am old-fashioned enough to think children are important to marriage. My husband, while he would like to have a child, doesn't think it too terribly vital, and says I'm silly to worry about it.

Man's Deep Need

Is For A Mate

With her in the background, concentrated on his welfare, sympathetic to his requirements of life, he feels able to tackle the world. He feels secure and whole; and when, as and if they have children, he loves them primarily, in the beginning, because he loves his wife. It is only later that he arrives at individual personalized love of the son or daughter. Thus I agree with your husband that it's foolish of you to be worrying about your security status with him, in the event you can't add children to the relationship.—M. H.

Knight Sues
Mt. Lake Park
For $20,000

MT. LAKE PARK—Ray Knight of Mt. Lake Park, through his attorney, Edward J. Ryan of Frostburg and Cumberland, has sued the Mayor and Council of Mt. Lake Park for $20,000, charging the latter with contaminating his property with sewage. The suit was filed in the office of Richard L. Davis, clerk of Garrett County Circuit Court in Oakland. In his declaration the plaintiff contends that around July 10 the Mayor and Council by their agents, while installing and repairing a sewer line which carried sewage from a great number of properties in the municipality, "failed to make arrangements for handling of said sewage during the period of said repairs and installment of new sewer lines, and that without leave or authority from the plaintiff and in direct violation of his rights, the Mayor and Council turned all of said sewage into the lake belonging to the plaintiff, and have allowed a great amount of sewage, filth and garbage and other refuse to flow into the lake and have contaminated and corrupted waters thereto and has created a condition which has been detrimental to the health of persons using the lake."

He further declared that as a result the health officer has ordered that swimming cease in the lake and that fishing also be halted. He says he will be put to considerable expense to attempt to remove the debris and corruption which has been placed there. Knight owns the area commonly called "Mt. Lake," which he says for many years has been used for fishing and bathing purposes and yields a substantial income.

Flintstone Woman Awarded
State 20-Year Four-H Pin

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Some 1,100 4-H boys and girls today watched a pageant which was produced largely by 4-H members.

The pageant, "We're On Our Way," was the high spot of this final day of the annual State 4-H Week being held on the University of Maryland campus.

About 120 of the 4-H youngsters worked all week on the pageant. Dedicated to local 4-H club leaders, it tells the story of older youths in various periods of America's history.

It was written and directed by Mrs. Merle Howes of Amherst, Mass., whose husband formerly was assistant state 4-H leader in Maryland and now is state leader in Massachusetts.

Assisting her was Donald Eastwood of Myersville, Frederick County. The chorus director was Edwin Miller of Brandywine, Md., and choreography was by Myra Rigor of Clinton, Prince Georges County.

Also set for today was presentation of pins and certificates for 20 or 25 years of club leadership. A 25-year pin, an emerald four-leaf clover, went to Richard Willis of Pikesville, Baltimore County.

An agriculture teacher in the McDonogh School, he was a member of the dairy judging team from Maryland that won the international contest in 1923 in England.

Twenty-year pins went to Allie Messer of Gaithersburg, Emmanuel Ritter of Reisterstown, Mrs. Clifton Crouse of Queen Annes and Mrs. Chester Robinette of Flintstone, Allegany County.

Final-day activities also included choosing a dress revue winner to represent Maryland at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next Dec. 1-5.

New initiates into the 4-H All Stars are chosen this evening at a consecration service. The 4-H members from around the state also heard a pops concert by the Second U. S. Army Band, under the direction of Chief Warrant Officer Robert Nelson.

B&O Plans Biggest Track Cut At Mannington, W. Va.

BALTIMORE — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad said today it will make the biggest track cut ever constructed on its lines when it starts building a new four-mile spur line at Mannington, W. Va.

The new spur, to be completed by November 1958, will serve the Simpson Coal and Chemical Corp.'s new mining developments.

The huge cut into the adjoining hillside will be made immediately after the spur leaves the main line and starts up Dents Run. It will require removing 626,000 cubic yards of dirt and rock, and will have a maximum depth of 155 feet.

The road's engineering department figured the cut would be cheaper than a tunnel.

G. E. Norris, the B&O's resident engineer at Clarksburg, W.Va., will be in charge of construction in the field.

No cost figures were given.

35 Dam Sites Selected On South Branch

MOOREFIELD—Approximately 35 possible dam sites have been chosen by the Potomac Valley Soil Conservation District as a preliminary step toward reducing flood damage in the South Fork of the South Branch area around Moorefield.

The sites are located at the headwaters of the stream in Pendleton County.

Norris R. Caryl, Romney, district conservationist, states that the work is still in the survey and planning stage and the entire plan must be proved feasible from the standpoint of cost compared to reduction of damage figures.

If the plans are feasible, no actual construction work will be done until July of 1958.

Every one of the 35 sites must be surveyed and checked.

It is believed the series of dams would eliminate the periodic smaller nuisance floods and reduce by 50 to 60 percent the damage from the large floods.

The sponsors are the Moorefield Town Council and the Potomac Valley Soil Conservation District.

The aims for the watershed protection program this year are to develop plans for raising the necessary money, securing easements and acquiring rights of ways.

The project is one similar to the one planned and constructed on the Warm Springs Watershed, near Berkeley Springs.

A dam designed to back up a five acre lake near the southern end of the West Virginia Turnpike is under construction. It is part of a watershed project in Mercer County to prevent flood erosion and to improve flood control and water supply.

Appeals Court Asked For Varied Rulings

By MARTIN SUTPHIN
ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Should the life of a convicted rapist be spared because he suffers from a mental disorder?

When a confused antique dealer sells the same $275 desk to two women and collects from each, which one owns it?

Such was the gamut of questions asked of Maryland's highest court during the 1956-57 Court of Appeals session which ended last week.

The five-judge tribunal also was asked to rule on the validity of a new tax which may cost Baltimore manufacturers 11 million dollars—and to decide if purchase of a brood mare is subject to the State retail sales tax.

The judges were asked to overrule the Supreme Court order outlawing school segregation—and to declare that an unloaded gun is not a "deadly weapon."

They had to decide if the $1,187,500 sale of the late William Woodward Jr.'s Belair estate was valid—and who is the legal owner of an oyster-shell island in Ape's Hole Creek, Somerset County.

Plenty of variety—and the heaviest work load in the court's history—were represented by the 243 cases docketed this term.

In addition, 82 applications for leave to appeal in habeas corpus cases were submitted — almost three times the previous average. An opinion was written in each of these cases.

Each judge wrote about 45 opinions.

The court's case load is on the increase.

Judge Hall Hammond recently told the Alumni Assn. of the University of Maryland Law School that the situation "is not desperate or critical." But he said "the present work load is about as heavy as the court can well handle without undue strain on its members."

Despite their record output this term, the judges found time to sprinkle judicial comment on life in their rulings.

And they injected some humor into the opinions, just as they sometimes live up to the rarefied atmosphere during presentation of arguments.

Their rulings necessarily contain page after page of legal language and references. But the judges try to express the complex issues at stake as simply as possible.

Judge Hammond started one opinion like this:

"A tractor-trailer and a diesel locomotive tried to occupy the same space at the same time at a crossing."

He began the opinion in the antique desk case this way:

"The contest which we umpire in this appeal is between two members of the gentler sex over ownership of a secretary that each of them bought from the same vendor."

"Plainly, sordid considerations of money alone did not inspire this legal battle; rather, credit must be given to principle, each feeling that she has the strength of 10 because her cause is just."

Opinions ranged from 3 to 27 pages, but the wordiness did not necessarily reflect their importance.

Nearly 25 cases were appeals from convictions in criminal court. Five of these, for murder or rape, carried death sentences.

The court—which has authority to review only the conviction, not the death sentence—upheld the lower courts in four of the capital punishment cases. The other was sent back for a new trial.

About 14 of every 15 decisions were unanimous. The most frequent dissenters were Judge George Henderson (five times) and Judge Hammond (four times).

All five judges hear arguments on each case after having read briefs filed by the opposing lawyers. They talk it over—usually the same day—and take a vote. Then Chief Judge Frederick J. Brune assigns one to write the majority opinion, or he does it himself when it is his turn.

The judges never try to make lawyers appear foolish, but their sharp questioning often puts an attorney on the spot.

And more than one serious lawyer has been interrupted in a pedantic recital of cases in point by a smiling judge who injects a humorous comment.

Final Report Compiled On City Finances

Surplus Of $240,671
Noted; Excess
Collections Help

The City of Cumberland wound up its fiscal year with a total of $240,671 in excess collections and unexpended appropriations, according to the annual report on the condition of the levy and appropriations as of June 30 by City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson.

The city had $178,116 in excess collections from 11 sources of revenue, but $21,239 anticipated but not collected brought the net amount down to $156,877.

Thirty-five accounts in spending for city operations showed a surplus at the end of the year, ranging from $12,811 in the contingent fund, to $41 for the Civil Service Commission.

Income Tax Up

Three were overexpended while five broke even.

The largest amount of excess revenue was $62,439.27 from the city's share of state income tax. The Mayor and Council had figured on getting only $30,000 from this source but collected $112,439.27.

Besides this $62,439, the city also had an excess in the general and special income account. Here $50,000 was anticipated when the budget was made up last August, but it reached $102,901 when the fiscal year ended. The $50,000 received from the B&O Railroad as a result of the Williams Street crossing closing boosted this amount.

City taxes on real and personal property were $47,206 more than expected. The tax levy was figured on bringing in $1,177,300, but the total taxes came to $1,224,506.

Others In Excess

Other excess collections were: General licenses, $62,400 levy, $62,834 collected, $434 excess; interest on taxes, $4,000 levy, $4,174 collected, $174 excess; police fines, $14,000 levy, $19,484 collected, $5,484 excess.

Weights, $1,500 levy, $2,207 collected, $707 excess; bingo tax, $9,000 levy, $9,006 collected, $6 excess; recreation income, $10,000 levy, $11,062 collected, $1,062 excess.

State admission tax, $4,000 levy, $4,111 collected, $111 excess; state auto license fee, $35,000 levy, $42,534 collected, $7,534 excess; state franchise tax, $1,700 levy, $1,732 collected, $32 excess.

Money Held Back

The city will not receive a total of $21,239 which it had anticipated. The council figured $90,000 would come from its share of the state auto and gas tax but instead $13,719 was held back by the state for money owed on the Cumberland Thruway.

State revenue income did not come up to anticipations, as $48,000 was expected and $41,456 was received. Permits brought $2,024 and $3,000 was expected.

In the appropriations account, the engineering account was overdrawn $75; mosquito control, $203, and stationery and printing, $17.

The council had appropriated $1,404,826 to operate the city. Actual expenditures amounted to $1,321,328 for a balance of $83,794. For debt service the city spent $252,155. Anticipated expenditure had been $249,703 for an excess expenditure of $2,451.

Other unexpended balances at the end of the fiscal year were: Accident awards, $4,551; airport expense, $2,782; Canada House, $117; charter amendments, $2,001; city employees' pension, $53; City Hall, $628; City Hall Annex, $747.

City planning and zoning, $448; Civil Defense, $2,046; Civil Service Commission, $41; tax collector, $48; Constitution Park, $6,461.

A graduate of the University of Florida, he was formerly employed at the Florida Farm Colony and by the Pennsylvania Railroad. He is a veteran.

Driver Hurt, Auto Forced Off Highway

John Martin Regan, 69, of 613 Shriver Avenue, was admitted last night to Sacred Heart Hospital with injuries suffered in a highway accident on the Wellersburg (Pa.) Road.

Regan, who suffered a scalp laceration and who was to receive X-rays today, was reported "resting comfortably."

Pennsylvania State Trooper Paul Kunkel of the Somerset barracks, who investigated, said Regan informed him he was forced off State Route 160 about a mile and a half north of Wellersburg.

Regan said he was rounding a curve while ascending a grade when an oncoming car went across the center line, forcing Regan's vehicle into a guard fence. The driver of the other car has not been determined.

Volunteer firemen from Corri-ganville received a call on a wreck "on the Mt. Savage Road." They answered the call, found no wreckage, thought it was a false alarm.

Meanwhile, the firemen received a second call saying the accident occurred on the Wellersburg Road.

State Police Autos Carry Litter Bags

The Governor's Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful has supplied litter-bags for use in all State Police cars, it was announced today by John E. Clark, committee chairman.

State Police Superintendent Elmer F. Munshower said he hoped that the use of the bags by state policemen would "serve as a good example to all motorists, reminding them that carrying in the car a container for disposal of travel trash is a great aid in keeping the highways free of litter."

"For those who do not practice highway etiquette," Col. Munshower said, "the state law provides penalties ranging up to a fine of $250 and 90 days' imprisonment for throwing trash and refuse on the roads and roadsides." He added:

"The State Police have been given special instructions to watch for violations of this law and we are enforcing it."

Working in conjunction with the State Police and the Governor's Committee to Keep Maryland Beautiful, the State Roads Commission is posting, at ten-mile intervals along Maryland's primary road system, signs warning the public of the anti-litter penalties.

Drought Felt As Vegetable Price Goes Up

Some Home Grown Items Slow Down Expected Increases

The prices of fruits and vegetables in this area are beginning to show the effects of the drought conditions along the eastern seaboard, especially Maryland's eastern shore and southern counties.

Offsetting the drought-induced higher prices for certain vegetables was the marketing of home grown items such as tomatoes, corn, beans and cantaloupes.

One local wholesale produce dealer said potatoes were up from 40 to 50 cents per 100 pounds. He said home grown tomatoes in some cases were small due to lack of rainfall several weeks ago. Cabbage, beans and corn are in short supply from the home grown market.

Peaches and apples seem steady in price. California lemons and oranges are cheaper this year than for the same period last year. Onions are lower in price due to a lack of demand by consumers.

The wholesaler said that lettuce from California and New York state is higher by 50 to 75 cents per case but the demand for celery is lower and prices are lower as a result.

Corn on the cob is priced about the same as last year. Green beans are selling at an average of two pounds for 35 cents while last year they were two pounds for 29 cents. Cabbage is selling at an average of three pounds for 25 cents as compared to two pounds for 15 cents last year.

The prices of canned tomatoes, peas, corn, beans and similar items are likely to be higher this fall due to the loss of crops in the eastern shore and southern counties of Maryland. The state is one of the largest packers of vegetables in the country. Ketchup and similar items which are packed in the state are also expected to show a similar ratio of price increase due to shortage of supplies of tomatoes.

Bids Sought For Removal Of Equipment

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners today authorized Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden to obtain bids for the transfer of equipment from the vault room of his office to the basement of the Court House.

A committee of the Allegany County Bar Association and Boden met with the commissioners today to request that the equipment, consisting of racks and other office furniture, be moved as soon as possible.

The committee, comprised of Harry I. Stegmayer, William R. Carscaden and Leslie Clark, told the board that after the equipment is moved the vault room can be renovated in time for placement of new equipment.

When the matter had more or less been decided upon, Commissioner Charles N. Wilkinson said he felt the state should pay for the expense. "The office brings in no revenue to the county and the state pays no rent or for lights and other costs of maintaining the department," Wilkinson declared.

The attorneys pointed out that the operation of the clerk of court's office is by a state law and the procedure is no fault of the attorneys. Wilkinson said "there is too much money going to the state" from the office.

The new equipment for the clerk's office will be provided by the state. The county's responsibility calls for maintaining of quarters for the office of the clerk of court.

Sewage Plant Work Accepted By Engineer

The designer and supervising engineer of Cumberland's new sewage treatment plant will officially inform the Mayor and Council Monday that he has accepted the facilities from the contractor, William H. Buchholz, street commissioner, said today.

Robert T. Regester, Baltimore engineer who designed the plant, told the Mayor and Council last night that he had approved the plant which is going into its second week of operation.

By this, he has approved the work of the Moyer Brothers Construction Company of Altoona, the builder, and the operation of the plant.

Monday afternoon the Mayor and Council approved the payment of $85,000 to Moyer firm and it was noted that $79,000 or five per cent of the $1,491,000 project is being held back for a year from the company.

This is under the terms of the original contract and is a performance bond.

Buchholz said today he is in the process of making plans for the dedication of the works, which will be attended by officials of the State Health Department, industries and labor organizations.

He also said he is arranging for public inspection of the facilities located at Offutt Street Extended.

Unions Of Section Agree On Program For Merger

The Western Maryland Industrial Union Council and the Allegany Trades Council reached agreement last night on all points of the merger plan and bylaws for the new joint association.

Delegates from AFL and CIO groups met last night in the Allegany Labor Temple to move toward the formation of the Western Maryland Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Charles E. Stutzman, business agent of Local 453, Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union, AFL, and a State AFL vice president was chairman at the session.

Meet September 10

He reported the two organizations will meet Tuesday, September 10, to officially act on the new constitution, bylaws and merger agreement.

At that time, he said, officers will be elected by the delegates representing nearly 4,000 union members in this section.

This action will follow the merger convention of the Maryland-DC Federation of Labor and the Maryland Industrial Union Council Friday, September 6, in the Statler Hotel, Washington.

The Western Maryland Labor Council will have jurisdiction over Allegany and Garrett counties. The membership of the AFL and CIO organizations is almost equally divided.

Officers Designated

The officers of the new council will include a president from an AFL union; a vice president from the CIO; recording secretary, AFL, and secretary-treasurer, CIO.

The merger committee includes Stutzman, F. Patrick Allender, trades council president; and David L. Miller for the AFL. From the CIO are C. D. McIntyre, president; Joseph V. Burke, Ralph C. Beard, Stanley Zorick, Harold Riggelman and Earl D. Sills.

Here for last night's session was T. D. duCuennois, Richmond, Va., of the AFL-CIO Region 4 staff.

Woman Injured In Car Accident

Mrs. Harry C. Fink, 24, of Virginia Avenue, was admitted this morning to Memorial Hospital with injuries suffered in an automobile accident near Short Gap.

Attaches, who reported her in "satisfactory" condition, said Mrs. Fink complained of pain in the head and stomach. She was a passenger in a car operated by her husband, William Fink, 25, who apparently escaped injury in the accident but who was to have X-rays taken today.

The mishap is reported to have occurred at about 2 a. m. as the car rounded a curve about three miles north of Short Gap. The vehicle skidded on gravel and crashed into a tree.

Surviving, besides her husband and mother, are a son, John A. Dill, Johnstown, Pa.; an aunt, Mrs. Glyde Horchler, city, and three grandchildren.

Group Urges Road Opening For Fire Help

A delegation appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today to request that a three-tenths of a mile section of the Messick Road be opened.

The group presented a petition containing the names of 95 residents along the roadway as well as members of the District 16 Volunteer Fire Company at North Branch.

Chief L. G. Shoemaker of the fire company told the board firemen are interested in having the road opened so that calls to the Williams Road section could be answered without having to come into Cumberland. He said the time required for such a route of travel might be the difference between saving or losing a home in a fire.

The section which should be opened, Shoemaker said, runs from Oldtown Road to the open section of the Messick Road. The road would be about parallel with the city dump road for a short distance and then traverse along one section of the Starlite Drive in Theater.

The necessary rights of way have been obtained from property owners for the clearing of the roadway. Shoemaker said the terrain along the proposed roadway is fairly good and the project would not require too much work.

A visit to the scene will be made next week with J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, and Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, meeting some of the group to go over the proposal.

Damage Suit Filed In Death

A suit for $100,000 damages was filed in Circuit Court today by the State of Maryland for the use of Mrs. Leona Gladys Hutzell, widow of Ralph Edward Hutzell, against Wylie M. Faw 2nd in the death of Hutzell in an accident last December 22 in the Narrows.

The declaration, docketed by Thomas N. Berry, attorney for Mrs. Hutzell, states that Faw was driving a car in an easterly direction on U. S. Route 40 in the Narrows about 3 a. m. on December 22, 1956 in a reckless and negligent manner.

It further stated Hutzell was walking on the sidewalk along the bridge across Wills Creek at that point and that Faw's car was being operated at a high rate of speed and crossed over the traffic lane and curb on the north side of the bridge and hit the railing.

The declaration alleges that the Faw machine then continued down the sidewalk and struck Hutzell with great force and hurled him over the railing into the creek.

Hutzell, who was 42 years of age at the time, was employed as a machinist helper by the B & O Railroad and the declaration states his widow has been deprived of his support and care.

Forecast Calls For More Cool Nights

The forecast for Allegany, Washington and Garrett counties calls for tomorrow and Sunday to be warm and humid with scattered afternoon thundershowers.

Murphy Improves

Attaches at Miners Hospital in Frostburg today reported Charles Murphy, Wright's Crossing, in "good" condition. The 66-year-old blind grocer was assaulted and robbed last Saturday evening and left tied up by his assailants. He was found in a semi-conscious condition Sunday morning when a friend arrived at his store-home to take him to church. State Police Sgt. William Baker is investigating.

County Board Gets Answer On VA Loans

Sen. Beall Informs Commissioners Of Contact With VA

U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall wrote to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today concerning his inquiry about having the county termed a Veterans Administration direct loan area for GI mortgages.

Sen. Beall enclosed a letter he had received from H. V. Higley, administrator of the VA, in which Higley reported on the situation as outlined by Ralph H. Stone, chief benefits director of the VA.

Money Tightens

The senator said: "This reply from the VA may not be precisely in accord with your resolution (in which it was requested the county be included in the direct VA loan program). If you have some alternative suggestions or additional views on the matter we will appreciate hearing from you."

Higley informed Sen. Beall that "through December 1956 the records of the VA show 23 per cent of the veterans in Allegany County obtained VA-guaranteed loans, only slightly below the national average of 26 per cent."

"We recognize that the past several months there has been considerable tightening of supply of mortgage money for VA-guaranteed loans. This is general throughout the country and undoubtedly has been felt in Allegany County," Higley stated.

Helps Small Areas

The VA office said the direct loan program was passed by Congress with the intent to be confined to rural or small communities and not for large cities where GI loans were normally available.

Resolutions asking that Allegany County be placed under the direct VA loan program have been passed by both the City of Cumberland and also the county commissioners. Both the city and county acted at the request of the Cumberland Real Estate Board and Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion.

40-Hour Week Adopted For Memorial

Employees of Memorial Hospital have been placed on a 5-day, 40-hour week but no immediate increase in rates for patients is contemplated.

The action was taken at a recent meeting of the board of governors, according to John A. Moberly, superintendent. Prior to this hospital employees have worked 44 hours over five and one-half days.

In making the announcement Moberly explained the board feels hospital employees deserve the same working conditions as those employed by industry, city, county and other establishments.

The board noted that the adoption of the program will entail a greater expense due to the increase in personnel required to adequately cover the needs of patients.

Surveys reveal that the majority of large city hospitals operate on a 40-hour week basis, it was stated.

Injured Persons Remain Critical

Two of the six persons who were injured in a fatal accident Tuesday night on U. S. Route 219 near Salisbury, Pa., remain in critical condition in Meyersdale (Pa.) Community Hospital, attaches reported today.

Others injured in the two-car crash were Eugene Sheeler, 32, of Garrett, Pa., the other driver involved, who is expected to be discharged from the hospital within a day or so, and nine-year-old J. Day of Jenners, who is reported in "good" condition.

Authorities said the mishap happened when the Henry car apparently swung wide while negotiating a curve and crashed into the Sheeler auto.

Organizers Attempt To Form Union

Representatives File NLRB Petition Seeking Agent Rights

BALTIMORE — The men who organize unions for the AFL-CIO are trying to organize one to represent themselves.

John A. Penello, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, said today the Field Representatives Federation has petitioned the board for certification as the sole collective bargaining agent for all AFL-CIO organizers.

The Field Representatives Federation is a national labor organization of all organizers employed by the AFL-CIO. The federation filed its petition for certification after the AFL-CIO refused to recognize it as bargaining agent for the several hundred organizers.

Penello said the board will check to see if the petition meets all requirements, then will attempt to arrange a consent election. If the election cannot be set up, he said a hearing will be held and the five-man board in Washington will decide the issue.

THE NLRB first assumed jurisdiction over employees of unions in the Airline Pilots Assn. case. It subsequently declined to take jurisdiction, then resumed jurisdiction again this year when the Supreme Court ordered it to do so in the Oregon Teamsters case.

Mitchell J. Cooper, a Washington attorney, filed the certification petition in behalf of the organizers.

SRC Denies Bypass Report

CAMBRIDGE — The State Roads Commission has assured Dorchester countians that there is nothing to a circulating report that a new dual-lane highway on the Eastern Shore will bypass Easton, Cambridge and Salisbury.

The statement came yesterday as the commission met with the Dorchester County delegation.

Sen. Malkus (D-Dorchester) told SRC Chairman Robert O. Bonnell that Dorchester residents were "mildly alarmed" at reports making the rounds that a plan was forming to rebuild U.S. 404 to carry traffic eastward from Wye Mills through Caroline County to Delaware.

"You'll find us a lot easier to get along with if you don't bypass Cambridge," Malkus said. Bonnell said flatly, "You're not going to be bypassed."

Housing Unit For Glen Burnie

ANNAPOLIS — A 108-unit housing development, expected to cost more than $1,300,000, was proposed for the Glen Burnie area last night in a rezoning request to the Board of Anne Arundel County Commissioners.

Demos Told President Doesn't Want To Bother

BALTIMORE — Rep. Friedel (D-Md.) told local party workers last night President Eisenhower may be an honest man but "he just doesn't want to be bothered."

Friedel spoke before 150 party workers at the local Trenton Democratic Club.

"The newspapers and Republicans picture President Eisenhower as a great man," he said. "We in Washington know different. . . ." he added.

"He is a very honest man. But he just doesn't want to be bothered. . . . He just doesn't know what it all is. . . ."

A more outspoken critic of the President was Dr. Victor Rosenblum, a political scientist attached to the House Governmental Operations Committee, who said the administration in Washington is shot through with "immorality."

He characterized the President as the "biggest rug puller-outer of the year."

Rosenblum accused the President of selling out his own federal school aid bill and of talking "out of two sides of his mouth" on civil rights.

Giants Rule 12-Point Favorites Over All-Stars

Mid-August Grid Battle Set Tonight At Chicago

By PATRICK JOYCE

CHICAGO — (INS) — The New York Giants, professional football champions, rule 12-point favorites in pre-game odds for their battle tonight at Chicago's Soldier Field with the College All-Stars in the 24th annual classic.

The game is being televised nationally by the American Broadcasting Company, starting at 8:30 p. m., EST (9:30 Cumberland time).

Few of the estimated 75,000 to 90,000 fans expected at the game argue with these odds. On the other hand, they will not be stunned if the Collegians—cream of last June's graduating crop—should jolt the Giants into defeat.

Pros Win 14 Times

In the 23 games played thus far in the series, the All-Stars have won seven and tied two, and the pros have won 14 times.

These figures show that the Collegians have a fighting chance to win—particularly if the pros are over-confident and are not inclined to get down to real business from the opening gun.

All-Star coach E. L. (Curly) Lambeau has pronounced this year's squad as one of the most willing and powerful he ever has handled.

The old Green Bay veteran has said: "These boys are rough, tough, willing and confident. They have not been dazzled by reports on the Giants. Everyone of them is anxious to make a standout showing."

Strong In Every Spot

"We are strong in every position and even if we do not win I can guarantee the Giants they will know they have been in a ball game."

Lambeau's tentative starting backfield has John Brodie of Stanford at quarterback, Jon Arnett of Southern California and Clarence Peaks of Michigan State as halfbacks, and Del Shofner of Baylor at fullback.

The All-Star line is equally powerful. His ends include Ron Kramer of Michigan and Lamar Lundy of Purdue and the center is burly Jerry Tubbs of Oklahoma. In between are sturdy tackles Don Owens of Mississippi Southern and Earl Leggett of Louisiana State and husky guards Don Shinnick of UCLA and Mike Sandusky of Maryland.

Heinrich At Quarter

The Giants are depending largely on the same great squad which swept them to the pro title last fall, including a crushing victory over the Western Division champions, the Chicago Bears.

Don Heinrich is starting quarterback. The halfbacks are Frank Gifford and Alex Webster and the fullback is Mel Triplett.

The All-Stars' last victory was scored in 1955. They were beaten 26 to 0, last year by the Cleveland Browns.

Record Field Expected For 'Old Dominion 500'

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — (Special)—Virginia's biggest NASCAR convertible race of the 1957 season, the second annual "Old Dominion 500" open top race over the fast half-mile banked asphalt Martinsville Speedway here Sunday afternoon, appears certain of the largest field of cars to ever start in an all-convertible race anywhere in the country.

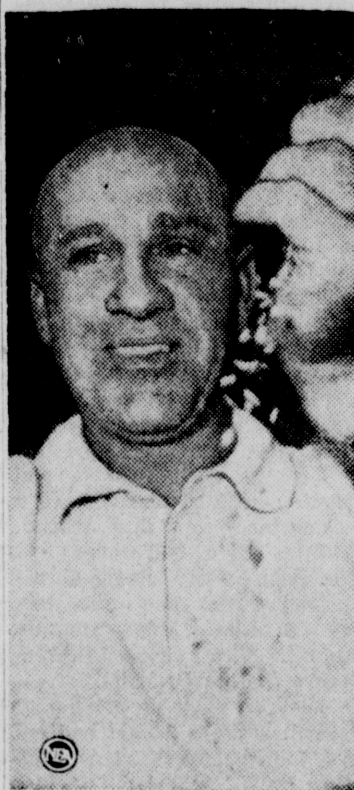

With many of the top Grand National drivers joining the convertible ranks within the past two weeks, race directors Bill France and Clay Earles anticipate a field of from 35 to 40 starters for the 500-lap, 250-mile grind that gets underway at 1:30 p. m.

Invented Race Style

BALTIMORE — Tod Sloan, elected to the Jockeys Hall of Fame in 1956, is credited with establishing the present style of race riding. It is called "monkey-on-a-stick" because the jockey crouches low over the horse's neck with the stirrups drawn up high.

Losers included sixth-seeded Frank Hartz of Richmond, Va., seventh-rated Henry Foss of Chevy Chase, Md., and eighth-seeded Ralph Adair of Rockville, Md. Hartz lost in the first round, Foss and Adair in third-round action.

The Shoppers wound up with a 15-3 record while Post's, with a game remaining, has lost four times in 17 attempts. St. Luke's had won only one of 16 starts prior to yesterday's upset victory and knocked Post's from the tie for the top slot along with ending a nine-game winning streak.

Two games are carded today with Marine Reserves meeting Post at Post Field while Peskin's Shoe Store takes on Western Maryland at Naval Reserve Field. The Railroaders, losing yesterday, were kayoed from the playoffs as South End Merchants and Kelly Tires finished in a tie for the fourth slot.

Doolan Wins Ninth

Frank Doolan won his ninth against one loss in hurling Sports Shoppe to victory. Manager Holly was the hitting leader for his club with a pair of triples while Buddy Meade and Pat McNally rapped homers. Denny Knippenburg had two hits for the losers.

St. Luke's whipped the league's top pitcher, Gene Hess, who had won 13 and lost only once. Tom Ogilvie gave up only three hits and fanned nine while Hess set down 10 on strikeouts.

Bob Smith had a pair of triples and Jack Devault three hits for the Lutherans. Boone belted a homer and Stickley had two hits for the Playgrounds.

ODC Scores Ninth In Row, Pads Margin As Elks Lose

Outdoor Club continues to win in the Rocking Chair Softball League and its ninth-straight victory yesterday, coupled with the 6-5 loss by runnerup Elks to cellar-dwelling Moose, shoves the defending champs lead to four games. The ODC clubbers banged Ritter's AC, 13-5, for their 20th triumph in 21 outings.

Crack Out 19 Hits

Cracking out 19 hits and scoring all its runs in the first three frames, Outdoor Club had little trouble with Ritter's. The ACers bunched all their scoring in the third but Glenn Kauffman breezed to his eighth win while giving up only three hits and fanning six.

Ted Durbin poled a pair of triples and single, Jim "Ice Water" Eckard had a triple and two singles, Mil Dean a triple and single and Sam Brady and "Bub" Porter two hits each for the ODC.

Elks were surprised by Moose as Webb Hull got the nod over Dick Klavuhn, both hurlers allowing only eight hits. Elmer Furlow had a double and John Esposito a triple for the winners. "Buck" Raupach had a homer, "Pooch" Orndorff came up with two singles, Johnny Cox tripled and Bernie McGann slammed a pinch double for the Elks.

Braves Pad Lead As Cub Club Again Cuts Cards

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

What are those other National League contenders trying to do, lure the Milwaukee Braves into a false feeling of security?

Any way you look at it, the scramble suddenly has opened up and the Braves are on top with a "whopping" 2½ game lead—their largest of the season. They made it as Cincinnati rolled over again, 5-3, yesterday and the seventh-place Chicago Cubs hopped the second-place St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 for a three-game sweep.

Dodgers Five Back

Third-place Brooklyn is five games back, skidding with a 12-3 clobbering from the New York Giants. Cincinnati and Philadelphia now are tied for fourth, seven games behind, after the Phillies defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 while the Redlegs lost for the 11th time in 12 games with Milwaukee this season.

If this is the breakup in the NL log jam, the Braves should know by Sunday night—after a three-game set at St. Louis.

In the American League, Washington made it two in a row over New York 6-1 and trimmed the Yankees' lead to five games as Chicago's second-place White Sox defeated Kansas City 7-4.

Birds Regain Fifth

Baltimore regained fifth place from Detroit by defeating Boston 3-1 while the Tigers lost to Cleveland 3-1.

Red Schoendienst, the second baseman who was supposed to have brought the Braves the pennant along with his bat and glove when the Giants traded him to Milwaukee June 15, got the job done yesterday. He lined a two-run single in the eighth, breaking a 3-3 tie and bringing Lew Burdette his 10th victory.

Philadelphia gave Curt Simmons a 6-0 lead with three runs in the sixth, two on Gran Hamner's home run, but the southpaw needed relief help in the ninth to win his 11th. Bob Miller nailed it, after Bob Skinner's home run triggered a three-run Pirate rally. Vern Law lost it.

Enos Spoils Shutout

Russ Kemmerer had given the Yankees only five singles and led 6-0 going into the ninth. Then a single, walk and Enos Slaughter's double saved New York from what would have been its second shutout of the year. Art Ditmar lost it.

Billy Pierce, the AL's only 15-game winner, gave way to Gerry Staley when the A's scored one in the fourth and cut Chicago's lead to 6-4. Staley blanked 'em on five hits the rest of the way for a 3-0 record. Earl Torgeson, 3-for-4, drove in five runs and hit a pair of homers—the first a three-run shot in a five-run third against winless Rip Coleman.

Ted Batting .390

Billy O'Dell gave up Dick Gernert's home run in the seventh and needed relief help because of a sore arm, but joined Pierce, Cleveland's Don Mossi and Yankee Bobby Shantz as the only left-handers to beat Boston this year. Tito Francona's RBI triple capped a two-run third that clinched it for the Orioles against Mike Fornieles. Ted Williams had two of Boston's six hits, hiking his bat mark to .390.

Vic Wertz drove in two runs with a homer and long fly for the Tribe as Ray Narleski took a 9-1 record with a six-hitter. Duke Maas was the loser.

WEDGEPORT, N. S. (AP)—The first blufin of the season was a 300-pounder taken after a 40-minute battle by James Stevens of Toronto. The tuna was caught at the mouth of the Tusket River.

SEEK DOUBLE PONY HONORS—Here are the members of the pennant-winning Ellerslie team in the Bi-State Pony League who will be hoping to add the playoff title to their honors when the rounds get underway this evening. Ellerslie, managed by Curtis Hickie, meets third-place Cresaptown today at home in the best-of-three semi-finals. The Red Sox won 17 and lost four over the season, only their second in the circuit. Shown are (left to

Torgy Helps Put New Life In White Sox

By International News Service

Earl Torgeson considers baseball a rather "mechanical" business and he's belting the ball so systematically that the Chicago White Sox are fighting their way back into the American League pennant race.

Torgeson, sometimes called the "Earl of Snohomish" after his home town in Washington, says most baseball plays are mechanical.

"You do them automatically without even thinking," explains the bespectacled first baseman. "But once you're in and out of the lineup that instinctiveness escapes you."

That's the reason, Torgy thinks, for his poor 240 batting average with Detroit until the Tigers traded him to the White Sox on June 13 for Dave Philley.

The White Sox gave him steady employment and the 6-foot-3, 180-pounder responded by socking a 326 clip to lift his average to .303.

The 33-year-old vet, who was born on New Year's Day, has driven in 28 runs in 43 games with the Sox and has belted five homers to give him a total of six.

Yesterday, he hit two homers and drove in five runs to propel the Sox to a 7-to-4 win over Kansas City that cut the Yankees' league lead to five games.

Heavy-Hitting Ellerslie Shoots For Playoff Title

Pennant-winning Ellerslie, with four players hitting over .400 during the season, hopes to add the playoff title to its laurels in the Bi-State Pony Baseball League.

The best-of-three semi-finals will be launched this evening as Ellerslie is host to third-place Cresaptown while runnerup Mt. Savage takes on Lonaconing at home. The second games in the rounds will be staged on Monday with the teams exchanging fields. Third games, if necessary, will be next week.

Ellerslie and Cresaptown meeting Wednesday at Ellerslie with 'Savage and 'Coney listed for Friday at Mt. Savage.

The finals will begin Monday, August 19, in a best-of-five series. All games will be over seven innings. Mt. Savage is the defending-playoff champ while Cresaptown won the pennant in 1956.

Steven Faulkner topped Ellerslie in batting for the season with a .466 average while Rich Lybarger was runnerup with .456 and Don Lowery third on a .406 mark.

Faulkner, who batted in 32 runs, also paced his mates in homers with five while Lybarger socked four as did Jack Lowery. Six triples were also blasted off the bat of Faulkner in addition to six two-baggers. Lybarger was tops in two-base production with 10.

The Sockers averaged 11.9 runs

Rotary Setback Would Tie Race

Rotary Club, now only a half game in front of second-place Elks, will be out to stretch the lead to a game this evening when meeting Jaycees in an 8:15 contest at Penn Avenue Field in the Hot Stove League.

Elks chopped the pacesetter's margin yesterday with a 14-4 rout of Optimist. The victory was the 14th in 19 games for the Little BPOers. Rotary has won 14 and lost four, a defeat tonight deadlocking the race while a victory again puts the margin at a game.

Jaycees and Rotary have split in their two previous games. Ronnie Manges losing 1-0 as Mike Aaron pitched a no-hitter for Jaycees. Melvin Nines and Manges combined to notch a 4-2 decision the second time around.

Charles Rice had three hits while Donnie Nave, Roger Groden and Owens had two hits each for Elks. Mike Marrale and Bill Sheetz socked three-baggers for the Optimist.

A four-run rally in the top of the sixth broke a 5-5 tie and enabled fourth-place Kiwanis Club to turn back Exchange, 13-5, last night at Penn Avenue. Exchange had taken a 5-3 lead in the second and maintained that margin until the fifth when the Kiwanis knocked the score.

The "Butcher" boys led the Kiwanis attack. Charles "Butch" Brotemarkle smacked a two-run homer in the seventh and also had two singles. Pitcher "Butch" Bosley, who went the route, aided his own cause with a pair of singles and Johnny Price clouted a double.

Corgs In Finals; Burkey's Seeking Sweep Of Innors

Corriganville, runnerup during the season, made the playoff finals yesterday by sweeping Stringtown, 2-0, on the losers' field. The Corgs had taken the opener in the best-of-three series, 7-3, Tuesday evening.

Pennant-winning Maple Inn will be hoping to get back into the picture this evening when clashing with Burkey's in their second game at Kennell's Mill. Burkey's can end the round with a victory, having won the first contest, 15-3, Wednesday evening.

Although held to one hit, Corriganville got a run in the first on a passed ball and wild pitch. The deciding tally crossed over on a fielder's choice, walk and pair of wild throws in the fourth.

The only hit by the winners was Joe Raygor's single with two away in the seventh. Art Raygor held Stringtown to three singles in notching the win.

Snead Takes World Lead On Torrid 65

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP)—The locker room banter at Tam O'Shanter golf club went this way today as the best 100 pros in the country prepared for the second round of the $101,200 "World" golf championship: "To have Sam Snead breathing down your back is bad enough. But to have the guy in front — oh, ah!"

Snead, 45, is supposed to be the richest golf pro. He swung into the second round of golf's biggest treasure hunt with a one-stroke lead.

Snead fired an opening 7-under-par 65 yesterday to gain the front-running spot which over the years has been known to maintain through a tournament. This prize is golf's biggest payoff — $50,000 exhibition contract.

"Just tell the boys I have a tin can half full," said the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., pro who came up through the caddy ranks. He referred to the kidding he has been taking that he has all his money hidden in tin cans under the floor of his home.

But Snead wasn't away and flying after the first round. One stroke away at 66 was Jerry Barber, always a contender in this jamboree. There also was a well-grouped following that included 32 who broke par 72.

At 67 was Canadian Al Balding, bracketed at 68, were Shelly Mayfield, Mike Souhak and Dow Finsterwald, who has finished in the money in 58 consecutive tournaments.

Red Sox Cop Division Title

The stage is now ready for the championship playoffs in the Dapper Dan Little League as the Red Sox took the Dan Division title yesterday by whipping Phillies, 8-3, at East Side Field.

The Sox, last year's playoff kings, had won the first-half title and then deadlocked with Phillies and Athletics for the second-half crown. They whipped Athletics, 8-7, and took Phillies across yesterday in the special series.

By winning, the Sockers join Yankees (Dapper) and Senators (Abrams) as division victors. The three will participate in the playoffs for the title starting next week.

The Sox collected eight hits yesterday and picked up four runs in the first to never trail. Pat Wilson had a pair of doubles, Rich Robinson two singles and Harold Hardinger and Del Proudfoot two-baggers. Howard Reynolds and Jim Powlson had two hits each for the Phillies.

Colon Smith, winning pitcher, struck out four and walked five while Reynolds, starter and loser, whiffed four with Powlson fanning two.

HERMANS NEED WIN OR CASEYS COP FLAG

The Queen City Brewing Company's Hermans, who blew a chance of clinching a tie for the City Softball League pennant Wednesday when upset 7-3 by the Old Germans, now must win this evening in order to tie the Knights of Columbus for the title.

The Hermans, in closing out the regular season, tangle with Old Exports at Stitzer Field. The former County League champs have won 14 of 19 starts and trail the Caseys (15-5) by a half game. A loss this evening to the Brewers hands the pennant to the Knights with the Hermans finishing in second place.

Hermans and Old Exports (5-14) have met four times with the Brewers being shutout in the series on loss of 12-3, 1-0, 3-1 and 7-5. The other windup contest this evening finds last-place Blue Ribbon Bakery (3-16) facing Old Germans (11-8) at Allegany Field. Both tilts are to begin at 6:15.

Raiders' Floyd Livenood set a record for the .45 caliber over the 30-shot National Match course with a 277 score. Leo "Dead-Eye" Leasure cracked the mark set in 1954 by Henry Humphreys for the 20-shots rapid fire of the .38 caliber pistol or revolver.

Leasure, shooting for Lancers, fired strings of 92 and 94 for the new high of 186. He also paced Lancers in the second match with a 217 while Norman White's 163 was high for Corsairs against Lancers. Summary:

NEW YORK — (NEA) — When Gerry Coleman hit his first homer of the season — against the Tigers — it also was the first four-bagger the Yankee infielder had hit since 1954.

Marylander Faces Odds In Bedford Race

A lone Maryland driver, Buddy Martin, of Thurmont, will be facing heavy odds in tomorrow afternoon's big car racing at the Bedford Fair. Opposition will come from 12 Pennsylvania drivers and other speed stars from throughout the eastern portion of the United States.

Martin, a surprise entry at Harrington, Del., two weeks ago, led the feature event until sidelined by engine trouble. His performance in a hot Dreyer-powered racing machine marks him as a favorite in Saturday's Bedford meet. The Harrington and Bedford ovals are almost identical in contour and surface.

A field of 27 drivers will be shooting for the loot and laurels in Saturday's meet which comes on the closing day of the Bedford Fair. In line with the carnival atmosphere of fair week, circus and vaudeville acts will be presented on the grandstand stage between races.

Qualifying time trials, where the drivers race the clock, will tee off Saturday's activity at 1:30 p. m. Racing will start at 2:30 when the first of three eight-lap dashes is sent on its way.

Non winners and amateurs will compete in a 10-lap consolation race, not necessarily fast but always thrilling, before the crucial feature, a 20-lap, 10-mile contest on the half-mile dirt track.

Zippers, Bombers To Clash Tomorrow

The next two days loom as one of the most important weekends in the Pen-Mar Baseball League, especially for runnerup Zihlman and third-place Barrelville.

Four games are listed tomorrow with the Zippers and Old Exports colliding at Zihlman in the top attraction. Both clubs have compiled long win streaks with Barrelville taking one of seven games into the fray while Zihlman will be out to stretch its string to nine.

Zihlman occupies second place, three games in back of Hyndman. Barrelville is third, one behind Zihlman and four off the pace of the Merchants. The Zippers have won 16 of 22, the last loss being to Hyndman, 8-5, while Barrelville (15-7) started its winning ways after being on the short end of a 5-1 count to the Zippers.

Tomorrow's meeting is the fourth and windup in the series between Zihlman and Barrelville with the Zippers having a two-game edge. The 1956 playoff and pennant winners bagged the opener, 6-2, and then were handed 7-0 and 5-1 setbacks.

Play Hyndman Sunday
On Sunday, the Old Exports will be at Hyndman while Zihlman faces a much easier task by tangling with Flintstone at Penn Avenue Field.

The rest of tomorrow's slate has Centerville at Mt. Savage, Hyndman playing Flintstone at Penn Avenue and Wellersburg being host to Grantsville. On Sunday, in another important contest, Centerville will be at Grantsville in the battle for fourth place while Mt. Savage invades Wellersburg. Centerville and the Sluggers

Playhouse 90 Attempts To Get Best TV Directors

By JACK O'BRIAN
NEW YORK — (INS) — Johnny Dio's lawyer looked like Edward Arnold... Playhouse 90's trying to corner the market on TV's best directors: Alex Segal signed aboard... Lux Theatre's capsule critique: Where there's a will there's a way, but not necessarily a good one... Climax had a heavy potboiler with Robert Preston and Diana Lynn overplaying to match overwriting... CBS is being nice about permitting Polly Bergen to take the NBC Sat. TV show starting Sept. 21 alternating with Dean Martin. The ARB ratings for July are out and confusing as usual: The $64,000 Q. gets the highest rating but "Gunsmoke" has more viewers; and for instance, Lawrence Welk is seventh in the ratings, fourth in number of viewers... Arlene Francis will go full tilt into glamorous togs in her new morning variety show now that she doesn't have to keep up the old staidly conservative "Home" girl action... One of the minor characters to be portrayed in "The Californians" starting Tuesday, Sept. 24, NBC-TV will be Mark Twain... Carol Burnett repeats her "I made a fool of myself over John Foster Dulles" tonight on the (vastly improved) Jack Paar show at the request of the home-burg hat she made a fool of herself over... NBC radio only for the Sugar Ray Robinson-Basilio bout, which will be seen via fee-vee (in theatres only) and not in N.Y.C.... Hans Conried's a very funny, very intelligent gent; and has a real Barrymoresque wallop when he wants... Sheldon Reynolds couldn't peddle his Milton Berle comic-whodunit series but he's sold his "Dick & The Dutchess" celluloid to CBS-TV, starting Sept. 28, opposite Perry Como...

Somehow, the prospect of a spectacular version of "I Love Lucy" doesn't sound as funny as the durable old series was. The first one stars Lucy, Desi, Rudy Vallee, Hedda Hopper, Cesar Romero, Ann Sothern; and of course Bill Frawley and Vivian Vance... The late show's "Brief Encounter" was a fine film this morning—but so often? We hereby swear on a stack of anything that an NBC publicity announcement for its radio show "Life & The World" came to this desk exactly as follows: "Friday, Aug. 16—the success story of Jayne Mansfield, star of upcoming film "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" How boys and girls use hand-aids for decorative purposes." (well, that takes care of her costuming.)

The first shot of the Civil War was fired from Charleston, S. C., by the Confederates at Fort Sumter in Charleston Harbor.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all those who were so kind to us in our bereavement following the death of our beloved husband and father, Calvin Thrasher. We especially wish to thank those who assisted at the services and those who donated the use of their cars and those who sent floral tributes.

Mrs. Calvin Thrasher
Calvin Thrasher, Jr.

The family of the late ROSE, NORRIS WARD acknowledge with grateful appreciation their many friends kind expression of sympathy.

In Memoriam

In memory of my dear son, Sgt. J. Donald Kennedy, who was killed in service 14 years ago, August 9, 1943. GOD'S MESSAGE.

Come to my heavenly garden And see in perfect bloom The flower you loved so dearly And thought I plucked too soon. Then you will know my reason. Though you know it not today, Why in his promising manhood I took your son away.

Very much missed by MOTHER

Senate Cuts Military Construction For State

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than one-third of Maryland military construction previously approved by the House has been slashed from the public works authorization bill approved yesterday by the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The reductions were made as the committee gave its blessing to $1,445,285,000 for such projects—$231,337,000 less than the House approved last month.

Maryland authorizations were cut from $16,503,000 to $9,673,000.

One of the casualties was a $3,200,000 item for the start of construction on a naval air academy on a still unspecified site.

Also knocked out of the bill by the Senate committee were $1,452,000 for an applied physics laboratory in Howard County, and $115,000 for the Taylor Model Basin at Carderock.

Of $2,652,000 approved by the House for construction at Ft. Meade, the Senate unit went along with only $589,000.

Also approved were the following:

Aberdeen Proving Ground—Troop housing, $2,288,000.

Ft. Detrick—Utilities, $627,000.

Ft. Meade—$589,000.

Ft. Ritchie—Troop housing, $820,000.

U. S. Naval Academy—Housing, plans, specifications for extension of Bancroft Hall, $1,602,000.

Naval Engineering Experiment Station, Annapolis—Development and test facilities, $618,000.

Naval Air Station, Patuxent River—Operation facilities, $2,209,000.

Andrews Air Force Base, Camp Springs—Operational and training facilities, $920,000.

The Senate committee also lopped off nearly one-third of the House-approved authorization for facilities at Dover (Del.) Air Force Base, clearing only $745,000 of $2,089,000.

Dayton Released In Theft Cases

Roy E. Dayton, 29, of Westernport, who had been held in a number of breaking and enterings including a service station in Barton, has been released from County Jail.

Sgt. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, said Dayton was released for lack of evidence, and will not be prosecuted.

He had been questioned by Sergeant Baker, the state's attorney's office, and had been given a lie detector test Tuesday night at City Jail by Detective Joseph H. Sticher.

Dayton had been arrested on July 22 in Denver, Colo., by an FBI agent on a state warrant charging him with breaking and entering the service station. He was returned to the county jail by Sheriff Edward Muir and a special deputy.

TEACHERS TO BARGAIN?

—Carl J. Megel, president of the American Federation of Teachers, will preside over the organization's annual meeting in Chicago, Aug. 19-23, which will study collective bargaining as a method of securing better teachers' salaries and teaching methods.

Megel, a Chicagoan, maintains that schools will open this fall with a shortage of 400,000 degree teachers, and in need of nearly 500,000 classrooms; to replace obsolete buildings and eliminate double shifts and overcrowding.

Activities will begin at 9 a. m. and registration will be from 9:30 to 9:45 a. m.

Other morning activities will include devotionals, a class period, and Bible hour.

The afternoon will be given to organized recreation and evening activities will consist of a 7 o'clock vesper service and a rally in the tabernacle at 7:45 o'clock.

Rev. John Fleck, Elizabethtown, Pa., will speak at the Bible hour at 11 a. m. and the night rally.

The rally program will include vocal and instrumental music and a Bible quiz.

County Issues Two Building Permits

Two building permits have been issued by the Allegany County Assessing Department.

Marie M. Walker, RD 1, Frostburg, obtained a building permit for construction of an $8,000 brick residence in Election District 24.

The 47 by 28 foot brick house will be built along Vale Summit Road several hundred yards from the Clarysville Inn.

James W. Davis, RFD 2, Flintstone, acquired a permit for construction of a $3,000 summer cottage on Perrin Road in Election District 3. The frame cottage will be 36 by 24 feet in size.

"Conchies" Not Entitled To FBI Files

Objector's Case Ruled Upon In Federal Court

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that the recent Jencks case notwithstanding, a defendant in a conscientious objector case is not entitled to basic FBI records.

A resume of such records is made available to the defendant and the prosecution. The defense argued it was entitled to the basic records to check on whether evidence favorable to the defendant had been fairly and adequately summarized in the resume.

Today's court ruling resulted from criminal proceedings instituted against Alva Eugene Blalock, a young Jehovah's Witness of Albemarle County, N.C., who, after being ordered to report for induction, refused to submit to induction.

Blalock had claimed exemption on grounds of being a conscientious objector but he was classified as 1-A after he told the draft board he was willing to serve in a defense plant.

In U. S. District Court at Charlotte, N.C., he demanded that the basic FBI files in his case be made available to him. The FBI is required by law to make an investigation in all such cases. The court ruled he was not entitled to the basic files.

In upholding the district court, the 4th Circuit Court said this point had been settled in a 1953 decision by the Supreme Court in the Nugent case in New York and that the high court's holding "has not been retracted" although the Supreme Court several times has been invited to reconsider that decision. This was a Selective Service case also.

In the Jencks case it was held that when a prosecution witness took the stand against the accused, the defendant could demand to see any statements concerning him made to the FBI by the witness to ascertain whether or not they conflicted with testimony given in court. The theory was that the defendant needed such information to determine whether the reports contained material for cross-examination.

Alarm Listed For Couple

NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn boy and girl, both 15, were reported missing tonight and believed on their way to Maryland to get married.

The missing persons bureau, broadcasting a 13-state alarm for them, gave their names as Joseph Suriano and Delores Mitsner.

Their parents said they had been missing since early yesterday morning. Neighbors saw them carrying two gray and two brown suitcases and overheard them say they were going to get married.

The boy is 5 feet 6 and weighs 165 pounds. He has brown hair and eyes and a little pencil moustache. The girl weighs 100, and is five feet tall. She, too, has brown hair and eyes.

Sewage Plant Will Be Dedicated Soon

Commissioner of Streets and Public Property William H. Buchholtz said a dedication program will be held soon for the city's new sewage treatment plant.

The date for the program will be announced after the plant is in full operation, Buchholtz said. Tours of the plant will be conducted.

Betsy Ross, with a snip of her scissors, convinced George Washington that a five-pointed star would look better than a six-pointed star on the American flag.

Negro Student Applies For Admission To White School

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—The first of Colored People (NAACP). She emphasized, however, that thus far she has not received advice or help from the NAACP in connection with her request to enter Washington-Lee High School here.

Her parents said she asked to attend the white school only because it is about four miles closer to her home than the Hoffman-Boston High School for Negroes, where she was a sophomore last year.

Dr. E. J. Braun, acting superintendent of Arlington schools, said a placement application signed by Sadie's mother will be forwarded to the state pupil placement board in Richmond before Aug. 29. The board is scheduled to consider Arlington applications there.

Sadie's application was made less than two weeks after U. S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan refused to grant Arlington County a delay in desegregating its schools.

However, Bryan refused to grant a request of NAACP attorneys that Negro applicants to white schools be permitted to bypass Virginia's Placement Law.
